DEDICATION

To Thomas Gaston McFadden, whose career as a student was marked by vision, loyalty, and constructive ability, this the XVI volume of "The Bohemian" is dedicated in token of the esteem and respect of the class of 'Twenty - Three.

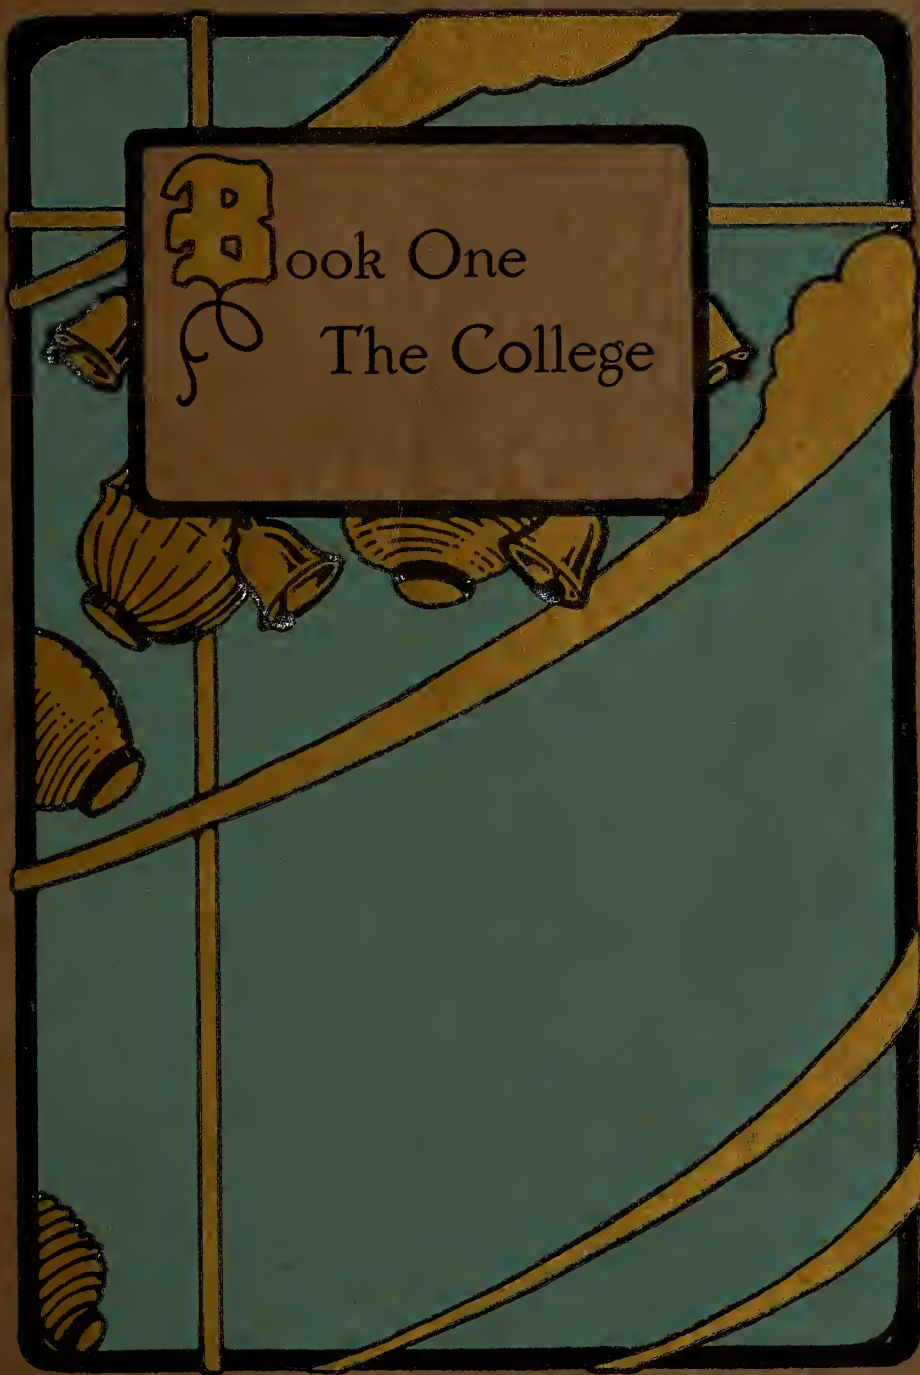

Foreword

We cannot stand forever upon the threshold of life and look forward to a glorious future, for the time must come when we shall derive a great deal of our pleasures from memories of the past. Tirelessly, relentlessly, the sand slips through the hour-glass. Seasons change, places change, friends change; but through these changes Memory makes an indelible record. Never shall we forget our college life, our work, our happy days, our miserable moments, our loves and friendships.

But we cannot live these days over again. Time does not repeat itself except in memory. And so, in order that we may remain together, in order that each member of the class may share the memory of every other member, the class of 'Twenty-Three has bound the sixty indelible records in this, the sixteenth volume of "The Bohemian."

*On campus walks, where many feet have trod,
'Neath whispering trees in early spring;
Where once did dance, and once did sing.
Illustrious ones of other years,
We have met as classmates and as friends.*

*Within these dear august, classic halls,
Our thoughts we cast toward Greece and Rome;
Arts and sciences and many a tome
On Sophocles, Shakespeare and Moliere,
Have deepened old friendships clasp on all.*

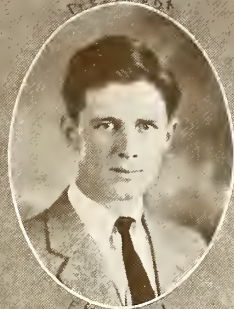

*Across the fields in 'Lympiac strife,
Our teams have swept for distant goals.....
To win or lose; and each heart enfolds
Memories which time shall not erase,
Of our great fervent calls for victory!*

*But hands of the world are beckoning,
And Industry is making its call.....
A moment and the curtain will fall
O'er the scene of our loves and friendships
And o'er Alma Mater's loved walls.*

*For time and our years are short
In Carlisle Place....in Science Hall
We have waited long to hear the call
Of those who have come to take our place,
On campus paths, where other feet have trod.*

*Adieu, to the ones we have loved; and you,
Old Alma Mater, Hail and Farewell!
The Class of Nineteen Twenty-Three shall tell
Much of the debt which it owes to thee....
And now good-bye, good-bye to 'Twenty-Three.*

Distinction in Scholarship (1) (3) (4); Senior Class Treasurer; Class Historian (3); Senior Speaker; President, First Critic, First Censor, Senior Monthly Orator, Junior Monthly Orator, Sophomore Orator, Junior Debater, Preston Literary Society; Honor System Council; Inter-collegiate Debating Team (3) (4); Assistant Manager Debating Team; Inter-society Debating Council; Local Editor and Athletic Editor, Old Gold and Black; Cornish Essay Prize; College Council; President's Club; Wearer Forensic Letter; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; International Relations Club; Cadet Major R. O. T. C.

One bright September afternoon in Nineteen-Nineteen, there came strolling across the campus from the station, a youth of small, but dignified stature, who was destined to become one of the leading students of the next four years. Altho small in size "J. P." is large in character and mental capacity. As a varsity debater, a sophomore and Senior speaker, Perrin has made a creditable and enviable success in the oratorical world. Not only has his sonorous voice sounded forth from rostrum and Preston Hall, but it has pealed forth many a military command on the athletic field. "J. P." scaled the heights of advancement in Uncle Sam's R. O. T. C., and was made Major, or commander in chief of the unit at Wofford.

"J. P.'s" consistent study and clear thinking in the class room won for him distinction in many subjects. His record at Wofford has been a good one, one which the college authorities and class-mates are justly proud. Stick in there and fight, "J. P." old boy, and whether in future years you may become speaker of the house in congress or commander in chief of the land forces of the United States, we wish for you the greatest success. When our backs have stopped and our hair turned gray with the passing of time we shall look back with pleasant memories upon our college days together, and we shall always be glad that you were one of us.

"My heart is whole, my fancy free, run along small girls—don't bother me."

DAVID DELISLE BLACK, ΣAE—A. B.
Walterboro, S. C.

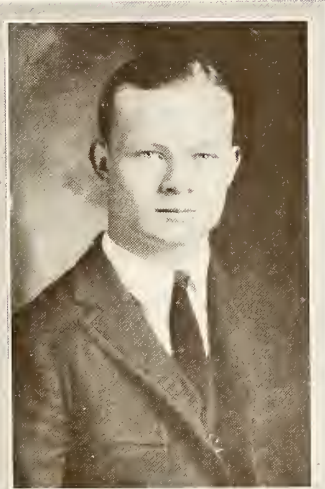

Distinction in Scholarship (3) (4); Second Censor, Preston Literary Society; Member Carlisle Hall Executive Committee; Member Orchestra, Manager Sextett, Glee Club (2) (3) (4); Class football (2) (3); Engineering Club; Corporal, Sergeant, Lieutenant, R. O. T. C.; Member Gym Team (1).

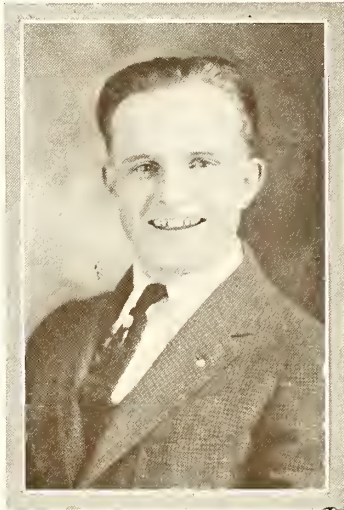

To put it in a few words the good characteristic and excellent qualities which "Stumpy" possesses is beyond the power of this human mind. But as the students of the campus have seen DeLisle during his four successful years at Wofford, they cannot help but say, "Behold a Musician, a Scholar, and a Gentleman." And by a gentleman is meant that type of student which is considerate of others, that type of man around whom one feels an atmosphere of truthfulness, sincerity and friendliness. "Stumpy" made many friends on the campus, and on another campus (?), by being a friend himself.

In the world of music he was there with the goods and could blow a cornet as long and as well as the next one. He added excellent quality to the Glee Club with his mastery of Cornet and banjo and with his voluminous voice, otherwise known as "basso profundo". As a student, DeLisle was not of the shark specimen, but held his own among the exceptionally good type. He and Professor Shuler got along well together in surveying and Mechanical drawing, and we see for "D. D." only a successful career in this work which he expects to specialize in after leaving Wofford. Our stay together on the old campus has seemed very very short, "Stumpy" old boy, and it is with a sad heart that your classmates bid you "Au Revoir", but this means only the beginning of greater and better things. May your life be long and your days full of beautiful sunshine, success, and happiness for ever more.

"Put your heart into doing your duty; demand nothing else of life than the opportunity to do your duty; enjoy freely and without fear every thing good and beautiful that comes your way".

WESCOAT ADALBERT BLACK, A. B.
Holly Hill, S. C.

Glee Club (2) (3); Honor System (3); Wofford College Council; Member of Intercollegiate Debate Council; First Critic, Second Critic, First Censor, Second Censor, Sophomore Monthly Orator, Recording Secretary, Preston Literary Society; Treasurer Y. M. C. A.; Member of Carlisle Hall Executive; College Marshall; First Lieutenant R. O. T. C.

The qualities of a student, gentleman and a true friend were never more beautifully blended in five feet of human flesh. Well I'll say it's "Weck" with his perpetual east-west smile and cheerful "Hello there."

"Weck" hails from Holly Hill. But lately we have grown a little suspicious. If Christmas came as often as "Weck" hails back to Holly Hill those old hills would be as scarce of "holly" as Clinks head is scarce of hair. Who ever she is we don't know, but we know she is lucky to have Dr. W. A. Black as her co-partner in those happy days that lie ahead.

"Weck" has already shown his taste and fitness for his life work. He is going to carry the light of truth, which makes men free, and also the healing ointment that will make their bodies well. Endowed with these qualities we know that "Weck" will be a success.

"I rejoice in having taught myself not to be sad."

JOHN LANDRUM BOBO, A. B.
Spartanburg, S. C.

Member Preston Literary Society; Three Year Club.

Behold a three year wonder of the class of "Twenty-Three. "Bo" as he is affectionately called, hails from the metropolis of Roebuck. He seems to be a bit shy at times especially when he is in the presence of any of the fair sex. But it has been rumored that "He is not so much in a crowd, but when you get him alone—"

Due to his size, he has never been able to participate in any athletics, but there is never a game does not find John on the side lines doing his best as a rooter for Wofford.

Success will surely crown his efforts in whatever he undertakes in life.

Watch out Limestone.

"Where there is knowledge there is undertaking."

CHARLES WELLS BOSTICK, JR., ΣAE, A. B.
Pacolet, S. C.

Recording Secretary, First Censor, First Critic, Preston Literary Society; Class Football (2) (3); Class Basketball (2) (3).

The sun may sometimes hide its brightness under a cloud, but here hails a lad from the unknown wilds of Pacolet who radiates joy and cheerfulness every day. "Shorty" came to us after finishing his career at Hastoc. He is amiable, versatile, diligent, a good student, and all other things that go into the composition of a good student and successful business man are found in "Hawk". It is a genuine pleasure to know a fellow who can shoot "Jimmie" in German for four years without a failure.

Altho "Shorty" was too small to participate in varsity athletics he is a true Wofford booster, and the class of 'Twenty-Three will remember the part he played in our class basketball. His work in the Preston Literary Society shows only one of his remarkable traits. A truer gentleman with higher ideals is not to be found among us, "a doer rather than a sayer" can well be said of this boy. He never says much, but we all count on him when the show down comes.

The greatest task lies yet before you "Hawk", but you know that you have it in you to "shine" when the many crises of life present themselves. You are leaving behind you, all, friends, who will cherish the thought that they were so fortunate as to have known you. Each and every one is confident in you, and looks forward to meeting you in the future. So, regretfully, we bid you good bye.

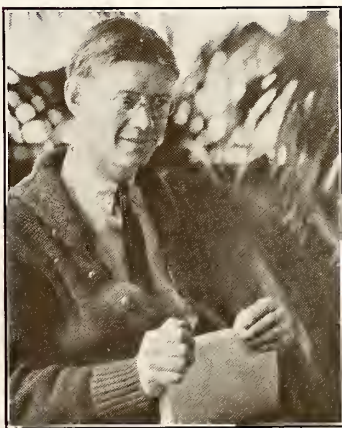

"Let another man praise thee and not thine own mouth."

WILLIAM RAYMOND BOURNE, A. B.
Spartanburg, S. C.

Pi Kappa Delta, Order of the Golden Quill;
Member of Carlisle Literary Society, International Relations Club; Intercollegiate Debater (1); Y. M. C. A. Cabinet (2); Editor of the "Journal" (3); Senior Speaker.

Nothing more apt can be said of Bourne, whose smiling countenance greets you on this page, that during his three years of college he has been an indefatigable worker. Certainly his efforts have been rewarded, for he now possesses, as he leaves the campus, not merely the respect and esteem of many friends, but also an uncanny ability to handle a pen and "an esoteric propensity for vocabulary and terminology which is all but bewildering in its involved intricacies." If he carries his earnestness and vocabulary into that one line of activity which so far he has refused to enter, he will have wonderful success.

"For sure no minutes bring us more content, than those in pleasing useful studies spent."

GEORGE CARROLL BROWN, JR., A. B.
Walterboro, S. C.

Distinction in Scholarship (3); Secretary Senior Class; Musical Manager (3); Business Manager (4); Member (1) (2) (3) (4) Glee Club; Advertising Manager Bohemian; Vice-President, Second Critic, Carlisle Literary Society; College Marshall; Managers Club; College Council; Class Football (3); Minerology Club.

George Carroll Brown is the name he brought to us and the name he kept until it was ordained that we know him henceforth as "Rastus."

It was not long before we found that "Rastus" had music in his soul that he showed a certain willingness to share it. As musical manager of the Glee Club, in his junior year, he showed himself to be a musician of splendid taste. In his senior year, as business manager, he handled the affairs of the club in a practical way, and was largely responsible for a very successful season. The Glee Club will miss "Rastus" sadly, but has been greatly benefitted by his four years association with it.

Always in a good humor, greeting every one with a pleasant smile, "Rastus" is known as one of the most genial, most sympathetic, and most beloved men on Wofford Campus. We can truthfully say that in him, there really did come a good thing out of Walterboro.

"I'll do what becomes a man; who does more is none."

HORACE BLOOMFIELD BRYANT, A. B.
Spartanburg, S. C.

President, Vice-President, First Censor, First Critic, Recording Secretary, Calhoun Literary Society; College Council; Presidents Club; Exchange Editor of Journal; Class Football (2); Class Basketball (2) (3); Captain, First Lieutenant, Battalion Adjutant, R. O. T. C.

Ladies beware. If you happen to see a smiling countenance riding down east main street of the "City of Success" in a ford, it is liable to be that of "Bloomfield", and "Bloom" has the reputation of being friends with Cupid. That Cupid shoots a good many darts for him, we dare not doubt, for every thing points in that direction. Horace, with his inseparable pall, his "tin lizzie", is a familiar sight to us, and many a time has been an unusually welcome sight when a ride to town was offered on a cold, wintry day, or a hot, sultry day in the early Fall or late Spring. If the lucky pedestrian desired to go across town to the institution where the fairer sex get their learning, usually he had to signify his desire and it wasn't out of "Bloom's" way—he had started over there.

But to a more serious thought of "Bloomfield". No one has ever become acquainted with him who did not gain a lasting impression of the good quality of his friendship, his generosity, and his trueness of character. Especially in Literary Society work has his zeal and earnestness been realized. Though living in "The City of Success", "Bloom" has spent a good part of the last four years on the Campus doing his bit in the different phases of college activities. He has had a part in the making of football and basketball teams and has always been the best sort of booster for Wofford. One in all, the class of 'Twenty-Three wishes for him the best of success happiness in the years to come.

"Remember me until remembering is a task, then forget me not."

ALBERT GARNER CLARK, A. B.
Inman, S. C.

Junior Monthly Orator; Member Snyder
Literary Society; Second Lieutenant R. O. T.
C.; Member Three Year Club.

Garner hails from Inman, the city of opportunity. Clark began his college career at The Citadel, but for some reason or other he decided to change and as a consequence we find that in the fall of Nineteen Twenty he is one of our members. We are glad that he changed and joined us, because in him we recognize a true friend, one who is willing to help at all times. Clark has the power of maintaining his cheerful countenance and smile even when "Heinie" is riding him in Ethics, this is something that only a few can do. His good disposition and ready smile have won for him many friends in his three years here.

Altho some may call Garner a "Crip Hopper", it is, nevertheless, a fact that he has done some excellent work especially in pre-medical work. And whatever the future may hold in store for him we can safely predict that in the near future Inman will be proud to claim him as its own, because if nothing prevents, Garner will be Dr. Clark in a few years. We can foresee success for him all that he undertakes to do.

"A cheerful disposition is a fund of real capital."

HOWARD TEMPLETON COGGINS, A. B.
Covington, Ga.

Pi Kappa Delta; Distinction in Scholarship (4); Intercollegiate Debater; Second Critic, Senior Monthly Orator, Carlisle Literary Society; Forensic Letter Club; International Relations Club.

In the fall of Nineteen Twenty-One, a brilliant young student from Covington, Georgia, joined our class. This young man had graduated from Young Harris College. He was determined to get an A. B. degree from the best college in the South, so today he claims "Old Wofford" as his Alma Mater.

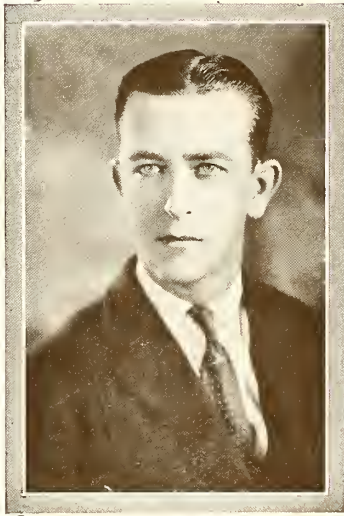

From his first appearance on our campus until present, we have recognized "H. T." as the type of gentleman and student that is characteristic of a true son of the South. He is a jovial, good fellow, easy to approach and a very congenial friend. During his stay at Wofford he has made many friends.

He is a debater of ability, has an open mind, and takes great delight in forensic activities. "Pegs" physics and "Bills" English also appeal to him. Because of his studious qualities "H. T." is destined to be a leader in some field of scholarly endeavor. In whatever sphere of activity he may enter, we assure him that our good will and best wishes will always follow him.

*"The tissue of life to be
We weave with colors all our own;
And in the field of Destiny

CARLTON GARRISON COLEMAN, K.S., A. B.
Chappels, S. C.

President, First Critic, Second Censor, Calhoun Literary Society; College Marshall; Sophomore Speaker; Cheer Leader; Member College Council; Presidents Club; Charter Member of the "Compartments."

"Groggy" is the appellation that he is known by, but this does not allude to his mentality for besides "Pulling down" his dip in two and a half years he has acquired a number of honors and made as many friends as any man on the campus.

"Cousin Carlton" is never too busy to help a friend and as he has many of them a good part of his time is taken up helping others.

"Big Snake" has taken a leading interest in all phases of college life, including athletics and literary work, and also has showed his prowess in the gentle art of using "bull", by being a shining light in Dr. Pugh's public-speaking class. Altho Carlton is not what you might call a ladies man, he manages to run down to Greenwood every once in a while to see how his "stock" stands.

With his keen sense of humor, and his ability to make friends, we can safely predict that his success in the future will be even greater than that of his past, which is saying lots.

*"For truth has such a face and such mein,
As to be lov'd needs only to be seen."*

HERBERT CONNER, A. B. Effingham, S. C.

Charter Member of Snyder Literary Society; Corporal, R. O. T. C.; Member of "Corner Store" Club.

"Doc" was fished out of the swamps of Effingham in the fall of 'Nineteen. Altho used to the environment of a swamp he gradually assumed the habits and customs of an ordinary human and to-day stands head and shoulders above his classmates in honor, scholarship and character.

"Doc" is admired by all his fellows for his winning personality and his bits of humor. He has won a name worthy to be praised in the class. Not only is he good in shooting his professors in class, but it is said that he shoots two girls a hot line.

But after all "Shark", for this name has been won by his great achievements in the classrooms, is a man to be esteemed and worthy to call Wofford his Alma Mater. For him we can expect nothing less than success in his chosen profession of medicine, for such is his greatest ambition. It can be said of him, as few others, that he always held above reproach the motto of his college by his very acts. "She shines untarnished honors."

"To say little and perform much are characteristics of a great man."

CLAUDE LARENTE FARRELL COPELAND, ΔΣΦ., A. B.
Ehrhardt, S. C.

Pan Hellenic Council; Business Manager Journal; President Carlisle Hall Executive Committee; Order of Golden Quill; Recording Secretary; Member Board of Trust; Freshman and Sophomore Monthly Orator; Charter Member Snyder Literary Society; Presidents Club; Managers Club; College Council; Class Basketball (3); Delegate to S. C. C. P. A.; Mineralogy Club; Latin (4); I Phetta Thi Fraternity; Hell's Alley Club.

When Claude came to Wofford to enter the class of 'Twenty-Three he earned the name that was given him, "Runt". But now he has changed instead he is a tall, handsome, dignified, senior. It has taken us almost four years to learn the type of man that "Runt" really is. It has been said "All is not Gold that glitters", but we say "All Gold Doesnt glitter" and so it has been with "Runt."

One has to know him well to know the sincerity of the heart that beats behind that manly chest. And when you have found out that, it is then that he lets you enter his secret chamber of friends. And in his quiet, reserved and mannerly way he has won many friends his four years stay on the campus.

And after all we desire to know no truer friend no finer gentleman; And wishing him the best that life has to offer, we part with him, even temporarily, with regret.

"Ambition rules my brain, and love my heart."

KIRBY STOKES COVINGTON, ΔΣΦ., A. B.
Walhalla, S. C.

Assistant Manager (3), Manager (4), Varsity Football; Secretary-Treasurer (2), Member (3) (4) Carlisle Hall Executive Committee; Corresponding Secretary, Recording Secretary, Second Censor, Second Critic, First Censor; Member of Trust Bureau; Charter Member Snyder Literary Society; Vice-President (2), Secretary (3) Class; Honor System Council (3), Secretary (2), Member (4), College Council; Chief Marshall; Member Block "W" Club; Managers Club; Athletic Advisory Board; Member of Press Bureau; Class Football (2) (3); Sergeant Major (1); First Lieutenant (2); Captain (3) R. O. T. C. Latin (4)

To write good things about some men one has to tax his imaginative powers, but there is no need of this method in writing fine things about "K. S." His life of many qualities and gentlemanly characteristics on the campus so impressed itself upon his class mates and others that they will never forget him,—his friendly smile, cheerful words, and happy disposition. Whatever task, no matter how great or small, that "Kazee" undertook, was always finished successfully. He showed his business ability as manager of football, and if he continues with as great a degree of efficiency in after life, his efforts will be crowned with brilliant success.

One needs only to read his list of honors which were conferred upon him by his college mates, to see in a small way how much they liked him. But they are not the only one who liked this handsome young man. One has only to go to another institution in Spartanburg, where the students are very much fairer, and there one will find some more, and maybe some closer friends than on Wofford campus. We are wondering which one of the present "Eight" will be the lucky one, and the class of "Twenty-Three" would like to be present when "K. S." changes the name of some beautiful damsel, and wish upon them—"Everlasting happiness and prosperity." We will miss your smile after June, "Kazee", old boy, but we will always keep a friendly spot in our hearts for you.

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

ROBERT MARION DANTZLER, A. B.
Holly Hill, S. C.

First Censor Preston Literary Society; Class Football (1) (2); Class Baseball (1) (2); Class Basketball (1) (2); Varsity Tennis Team (3) (4).

When you need a friend, go to "Bob"—for he is a true and loyal one. Not only has he proved himself a friend to his college-mates, but also to those he came in touch with. He is popular with the fair sex and has many friends among them. We know not what his vocation in life will be, but we feel sure that he will make a success in whatever he goes at. He has the qualities of a man and the ability to do a man's work. He was a "Shark" in History. He was decidedly Optimistic. Each new experience held a brighter future for him. With Browning, he says, "Grow old along with me, the best is yet to be.

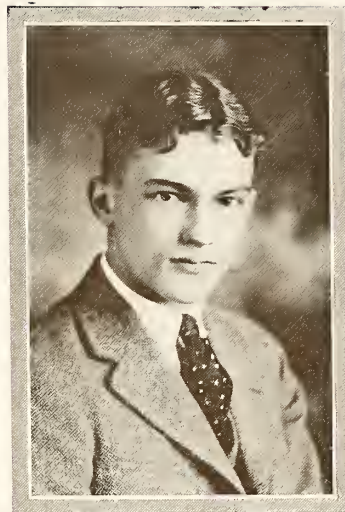

"Bob" has always been behind the college activities. We know he will always back his Alma Mater in all her activities. His ability as a tennis player is admired by all; with that "Wicked Service", he is able to meet all opponents. He represented the Old Gold and Black two years on the tennis team. We are proud of "Bob" and wish him success.

*"The rule of my life is to make business a pleasure

FRANCIS TRADEWELL DAVIS, KΣ., A. B.
Columbia, S. C.

Pan-Hellenic Council; Vice-President Senior Class; President Vice-President; Recording Secretary, Calhoun Literary Society; Varsity Football (2) (3) (4); Captain (4); Freshman Basketball Team; Track Team (3) (4); Captain Gym Team; Class Baseball; Junior and Senior Football Coach; Block "W" Club; Athletic Advisory Board; Presidents Club; College Council; Charter Member of "Compartments."

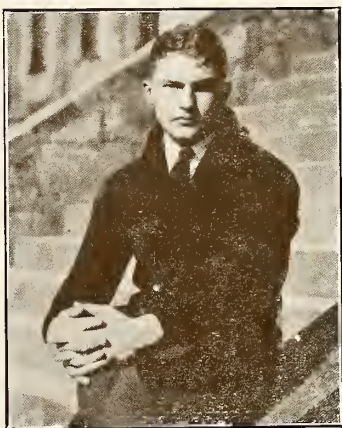

"Rooster" the curly headed lad, came to us from the capitol city. He is very quiet, but his unassuming exterior hides undreamed of potential ability and attractiveness. He is steady and sure in all his undertakings, and his ability is such that he always comes out on top.

On the football field he displayed powers that brought him the captaincy of the team in "Twenty-Two." His play stuck fear to the heart of the enemy and brought honor to his college. "Rooster" is not a book worm, but he has had no trouble in shooting the faculty especially Uncle Gus in Latin 3 & 4.

Rumor has said that he has a girl in the "City of Success", where the birds warble love songs and the moon hangs low. It also says that he can talk like a phonograph with a broken stop when in her presence. She must be a wonderful girl—Success to you "Rooster."

Without a doubt, "Rooster" is bound, sails forth, for success, nothing can stop him with his ready smile and winning ability. "Rooster" has always been classed among the first here in his studies, college activities and friendships, surely he will be classed among the first in this world of success.

"I dare do all that may become a man, who dares dare do more is none."

JAMES GARY DAVIS, A. B.
Hartsville, S. C.

Member Carlisle Literary Society.

The manly fight that "J. G." has put up these four years is sufficient proof that he will succeed in any work that he might undertake. He has been faithful to all of his college duties and also an active supporter of athletics.

His success as a business man is assured by the skillful way he has managed the "College Canteen." We feel that it is not chance nor pull nor luck, but genuine ability---a most gracious gift of nature that enabled "J. G." to come out on top this year.

His knowledge and skill in the Chemistry "Lab" seemed to have outstripped that of his fellow chemists. As a "Lab" assistant he has proven himself to be thoroughly scientific.

Then we notice that his smile is so much broader on certain week ends, when a certain young teacher comes back to the old home town. Well we wont say, we will just be contented in believing that "It is not good for man to live alone." "J. G." leaves us with best wishes for a successful career.

"Pay up or get out."

Spartanburg, S. C.

Distinction (1) (3) (4); President Pan-Hellenic Council; Third Censor Critic, Vice-President, Junior Monthly Orator, College Marshall, Preston Literary Society; Assistant Advertising Manager Journal; Editor Y. M. C. A. Hand Book; Basketball (1) (2) (3) (4), Captain (3); Assistant Manager Track; Block W Club; Athletic Advisory Board.

There are always, in a group of men, a few whom we can turn to and profitably model our ways after. To be placed among these few, should be a highly esteemed honor, for such men as Heyward belong to this class. Modesty and big-heartedness seemed to be personified in this boy. His quiet, unassuming, straight forward manner and his willingness to meet every one half way, have made him a general favorite everywhere.

The Class of 'Twenty-Three is truly proud to claim a man with such well rounded out, and exceptional characteristics and abilities as Heyward possesses. In the class room he invariably "Shoots 'em" for a ten, and we can boast no brighter mind as an athlete, through out his four years on the basketball team, clean playing and hard fighting occupied his whole time.

Wofford hates to lose such men, but she knows that the world needs them, so we bid Heyward farewell. We can say that this man will succeed at anything.

"An honest man is the noblest work of God."

JAMES RALF DRAKE, A. B.
Belton, S. C.

Member Carlisle Literary Society.

Drake is a man of whom many good things can be said. He is a scholar, a true friend, and a gentleman. He goes about his work in an ambitious way and has acquired the respect of all who know him. Drake is a man who is always willing to help his college mates. Probably the little quarrel across the waters is responsible for Drake finishing with our class. He was ready to enter college before we were, but Uncle Sam called him and it was the fall of Nineteen-Nineteen when this lad from Belton entered Wofford.

In the fall of Nineteen Twenty-One about Thanksgiving, Ralf took a week off, part of which he took in North Carolin. We have no account of every thing that took place, but when he came back we learned that Mrs. J. R. Drake came with him.

Drake is especially proficient in "Peg's" applied mathematics and we have not doubt of his success, no matter what course he chooses.

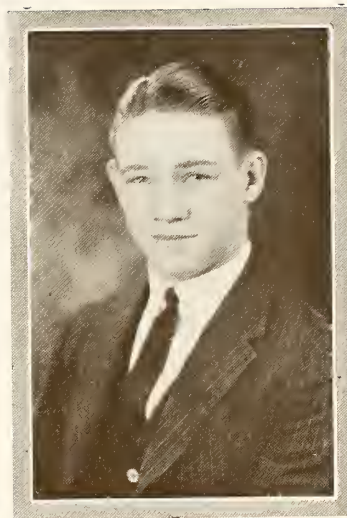

"Do your duty, and do it well, what more can any one do."

ALBERT MAY EADDY, A. B.
Johnsonville, S. C.

Distinction in Scholarship (3); Member of Student Volunteer Band; Member of Carlisle Literary Society; Class Football (1) (2) (3); W. F. S. Alumni Club; Captain R. O. T. C.; Student Assistant Laboratory Chemistry (3); Biology (4).

"Captain" Eaddy came to us from Johnsonville having a diploma from the Fitting School as well as the College. He is a Wofford man to the bone. The word "efficiency" in his R. O. T. C. work can be applied to him in all his college activities. Captain was very active in his literary society work. He was an energetic debater and speaker and was always on the job. He was an enthusiastic supporter of all forms of athletics. He was such an expert in the "Lab" work that Dr. Waller made him his assistant.

A happy good natured fellow, a clever captain—never "hard boiled" unless he failed to get his expected letter. Captain has the good wish of every one in his class.

"Today is the Tomorrow—you worried about yesterday."

WILLIAM DENNIS EVANS, A. B.
Ellore, S. C.

Charter Member of Snyder Literary Society;
Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Class Football (2);
Class Baseball (2).

Dennis began his college career at The Citadel. However, he realized his mistake before becoming seriously effected and joined our class early in Nineteen-Twenty. He was taken as a full fledged member, christened "Beagle", and has been a loyal Woffordite ever since.

Due to his diminutive size, "Beagle" has not taken an active part in college athletics. However, his work in behalf of our class athletics was worthy of any man, and he will long be remembered by his classmates.

"Beagle" is an ardent admirer of the fair sex, and somehow a charming smile and winning personality, which might well cause any young lady to look with apprehension at his attention.

Evan's loyalty to his fellow students, frankness of opinion and unselfishness, are so blended together in him, that we find him to be a man possessing every characteristic of a true friend and gentleman, and we wish for him happiness and success in life.

"I never trouble trouble, 'til trouble troubles me."

OSCAR JASPER FLETCHER, A. B.
McColl, S. C.

Distinction in Scholarship (4); First Critic, First Censor, Second Censor, Calhoun Literary Society; Honor System (2); College Marshall (1); Class Marshall (2); Secretary-Treasurer Carlisle Hall Executive Committee; Engineers Club.

Oscar came to us four years ago, tagged from McColl to Spartanburg, and has been here on every school day since that time. He is a quiet gentlemanly young fellow whose motto must be, "Silence is the key to success". One never knows that Fletcher is around until a negative statement is made concerning Marlboro County, or the quality of a Willis-Knight Automobile, and then it is that a blind man would think that Daniel Webster had arisen from the dead.

Early in Fletcher's Sophomore year, some one nicknamed him, "Sarge", and that title has stuck like glue till this day.

"Sarge" considers it a crime not to elect professor Shuler's courses of study and is at present "Peg's" right hand man on his squad of Engineers. If he pursues engineering as a profession, we will perhaps some day in the head lines of the daily papers read where he has bridged the Atlantic, tunneled the Rockies or irrigated the Sahara.

At any rate, "Sarge" is a true friend and a hard worker, and we are sure that he will be successful in whatever he takes up as a life time profession.

"Silence is deep as Eternity", speech is shallow as time."

HARVEY STAFFORD FLOYD, A. B.

Floy Dale, S. C.

First Critic, Second Critic, Recording Secretary, Board of Trust; Carlisle Literary Society; Varsity Tennis Team (1) (2) (3) (4); Assistant Manager (2), Manager (3) (4); Tennis Team; Secretary S. C. Intercollegiate Tennis Association; Varsity Cross Country Team (3); Varsity Track Team (3) (4); Class Football (1); Block W Club; Athletic Advisory Board; College Council; Managers Club.

"Ig" and "Igmus" are but corruptions of a state of mind which characterize Floyd in his freshman year. Of this condition nothing now remains but the name; showing what wonders a college education is capable of.

"Ig" is not so much in "Jimmie's" German class, but on a tennis court—it's a different story. It is in this field that "Ig" has established a just claim to fame in Wofford Athletics. He is also a track man of renown.

"Ig" has made a good record in his studies, specializing in German and French with a view (he says) to traveling in those countries, but more probably for the purpose of "Passing Jimmie off."

It is generally understood that "Ig" expects to get rich bartering red beads and bandana handkerchiefs for elephant tusks with the natives near Floy Dale. There is much reason for believing that he will succeed in this profession since he was able to swap a cigar to John Harris for a pass on French.

"Ig" is a true friend to those who have been privileged to know him intimately. He has rooted himself in the memory of his class-mates too well to be soon forgotten.

He possesses qualities of "grit", self confidence and common sense, which make a rich endowment and which we believe will lead him safely in the troublesome ways of the world.

"Ig", we will not soon forget you nor cease to enjoy the memory of a true class mate.

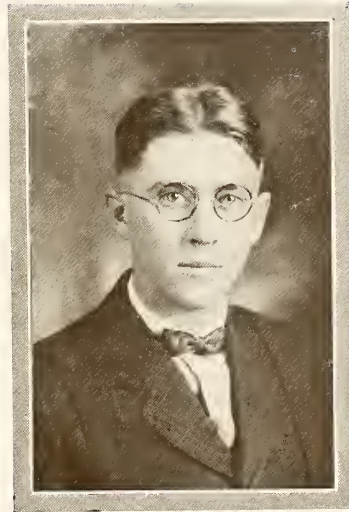

*"Things are going to happen—why worry?—
everything comes to him who waits—why hurry?"*

ALTON LEROY FOSTER, A. B.
Spartanburg, S. C.

Distinction (1) (2) (4); President, First Critic, First Censor, Senior Monthly Orator, Preston Literary Society; College Council.

Alton hails to us from "The City of Success". It is true that he is a city reared lad, but he is not the typical city youth of Nineteen Twenty-Three. We recognize in him the making of a real man. He has taken his course in the regular four year style, but at the end of these four years is the same Alton in friendship, and sincerity altho he has achieved much. His ability as a student is to be envied, his four years of French under "Jimmie" assures that fact. The dexterity with which he handles a tennis racquet causes champions to gasp—at times. His greatest accomplishment is his power to attract the fair sex.

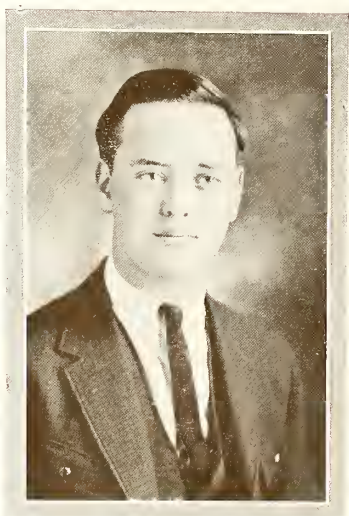

Alton is never gloomy, always a pleasant greeting and is ever ready to lend a helping hand. This a great asset to any man and Foster is a man who can use it to good advantage. It seems that it has already helped him with the ladies. Alton has also done great work in the society. His contributions to the Journal are among the best and we expect to hear more from his pen in the near future.

Alton has won a fast friendship among his class mates and many other students. However, not living on the campus, every student has not been honored by his acquaintance. Altho it may be only for a short while, it is with deep regret that we leave our beloved friend.

"A true friend is a valuable asset, but a lady friend involves a shaky proposition."

Brevard, N. C.
LAMAR QUINTIUS GALLOWAY-YEZDIKHAST, A. B.

Pi Kappa Delta; Order of Golden Quill; Distinction in scholarship (3) (4); Oratorical Speaker (3) (4); Senior Speaker; Class Prophet; Varsity Debater; Assistant Manager (3), Manager (4), Varsity Basketball; Business Manager Old Gold and Black; Honor Council; President, Vice-President, Recording Secretary, Senior Monthly Orator, Junior Monthly Orator, Carlisle Literary Society; Secretary-Treasurer Carlisle Hall Executive Committee; College Council; Captain Intercollegiate Debating Council; Presidents Club; Managers Club; Managing Editor Wofford Press Bureau; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Athletic Advisory Board; Block W Club; Wearer of Forensic Letter; International Relations Club; Latin (4) Club.

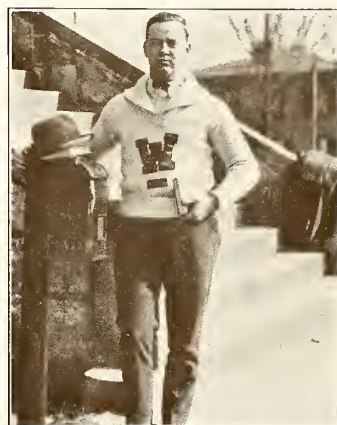

Galloway, a "Tarheel", hailing from Brevard in "The Land of the Sky", started his college career at Emory and Henry, but realizing the error of his way he left Virginia in the winter of Nineteen Twenty-One and joined us. Big hearted, jovial Lamar, partly on account of his middle name and partly on account of the reputation he soon attained for starring in Mase's Latin and later in Uncle Gus' Latin, soon came to be known as "Lucius Quintius" and the Roman cognomen has stuck to him through the rest of his college course.

Emory and Henry's loss was our gain for "QUINTIUS" has made an enviable record since he joined us, especially in forensic activities. Two years as a varsity intercollegiate debater with out a defeat is his record up to the time this goes to press. Each year he has been a dangerous contender for first honors in the oratorical contest. In classes, distinction in all his work has been his.

No, Galloway is not a book worm. A jolly sport is he, always happy, as displayed by a bright happy countenance. He has successfully demonstrated his business ability by his efficient management of the financial affairs of the Old Gold and Black and the Varsity basketball team. A glance at the above list of honors will show that he is a leader.

It is with much regret that we part with "Quintius", the gentleman and friend, but we feel assured, as we reluctantly part, that he will meet with success in his chosen profession of law.

"Not failure, but low aim, is crime."

JESSE MONROE GEORGE, A. B.
Aiken, S. C.

Distinction in Scholarship (3); Athletic Editor of Bohemian; Advertising Manager of the "Journal"; Member of Wofford College Council; President, Vice-President, First Critic, Recording Secretary, Corresponding Secretary, Sophomore Orator, Board of Trust, Carlisle Literary Society; Sophomore Class Marshall; Member of Honor System Committee; College Marshall (3); Presidents Club; Lieutenant, Sergeant, Corporal, R. O. T. C.

Monroe came to us from Georgia Tech. That does not necessarily mean that he isn't a good man—he is a remarkable fellow—good fellows come from Tech, but the remarkable good side is shown by where they go after they leave. We are proud to claim Monroe as a member of the class of 'Twenty-Three. We came very nearly missing him—the class of 'Twenty-Two come very nearly getting him. This shows the kind of student he is. He needed only three hours to finish with the class of 'Twenty-Two.

He needed only three hours to Monroe takes an active part in all phases of college life. A good debater and a member of the Glee Club, besides other important duties he has performed, show us that he is faithful and steady with a sense of responsibility. A generous and never failing friend no matter which way the wheel of fortune turns. He will stick till the end.

A man such as this will live a happy useful life.

"Success comes only to those who are honest, industrious, persistent."

VIVIAN EUGENE GLENN, YEZDIKHAST, A. B.
Jenkinsville, S. C.

Member of Carlisle Literary Society; Corporal, Sergeant, Second Lieutenant, R. O. T. C.; Class Football (2) (3).

"Four" came to us from Jenkinsville four years ago. He is a true friend, a gentleman, and a scholar, and beloved by all who know him. His ability to shoot Clink and a few of the other members of the faculty for "ones" has lead to his being called the "oneder."

Glenn was given the nickname of "Four" on account of his Harold Lloyd glasses, and not through the fact that he swings a wicked driver—which he doesn't—as some people think.

With the fair sex "Four" is another "Vaseline", and were it not for the fact that he would break so many hearts in making one happy, he would have set sail upon the sea of matrimony long ago.

"Four" has taken part in none but class athletics. However, in class football he has been an outstanding star. And the class of 'Twenty-Three owes quite a bit to him for the victories she has won.

We are indeed sorry that we have to part with Glenn so soon. We send him away with heavy hearts, but out of these heavy hearts come good wishes for his success and happiness in the near future and through out life.

"Success alone can come to him who is persistent in his work."

WILLIAM LAFAYETTE GRAY, JR., KΣ., A. B.
Laurens, S. C.

Distinction in Scholarship (1) (2) (3) (4); Assistant Manager, Advertising Manager Glee Club; Class Poet; Cheer Leader (1) (2) (3) Chief Cheer Leader (4); Assistant Manager Varsity Basketball; Manager of Freshman Basketball; Corresponding Secretary, Third Critic, Second Critic, First Critic, Second Censor, First Censor, Vice-President, Sophomore and Junior Monthly Orator, Calhoun Literary Society; College Marshall; Block W Club; Managers Club; Member Carlisle Hall Executive Committee; Intercollegiate Debating Council.

The gentleman above is none other than William Lafayette Gray, who goes by the sobriquet of "Skeeter". Altho too small for athletics, his ability in the class room ranks among the highest.

"Skeeter's" college career has been a success. He has been a member of the Glee Club for four years and has always done his uttermost for the good of the Calhoun Literary Society.

His phime hobby is tennis and we predict that in the future his name will rank with that of Tilden.

"Skeeter" is a friend and pal to every one and a more popular boy cannot be found on the campus. He has the rare ability of saying the right thing at the right time.

His knack with the Converse ladies is the ambition of every freshman at Wofford. "Skeeter" can easily persuade any girl that he will make some woman a good husband. He is just naturally a hound with the ladies.

His ambition is to be mayor of Laurens, and we prophecy that within the next few years he will receive his mail at the City Hall of Laurens, S. C.

"Too low they build, who build beneath the stars."

NEWELL CULLEN GRIFFIN, A. B.
Pinewood, S. C.

Distinction (1) (2) (4); Vice-President, President, First Censor, Senior Monthly Orator, Preston Literary Society; Member of Three Year Club; Second Lieutenant R. O. T. C.

This lad from Pinewood has made his way into the hearts of all who have been associated with him during his college course. Griffin has been with us only three years, and even though the present Junior Class is glad to see its members "Conquer and Prevail" it feels a very material loss in seeing this one time member ascend into the ranks of the Senior Class.

Altho Griffin never insisted in giving the contents of the lesson from his personal point of view, still when the professor wished to hear from "Mr. Griffin", we cannot recall one single instance in which he did not respond. His habits of quiet seclusive study have prevented his being closely associated with the greater number of students, but his qualities of manliness could not remain unnoticed even for three years, now all are glad to call him friend.

One girl, we know not her name, has complete control of the affections of this young man. Fair lady, you have done noble work and a noble product is your reward. May many envy you in that you are the possessor of the devotions of a heart so loyal.

We know not what vocation will be favored with Griffin's talents, but whatever field of endeavor he may choose for his calling, all who know him wish him well and know that he will play the part of a man.

"Along the cool sequestered vale of life he kept the noiseless tenor of his way."

HERBERT ALBERT GROSS, ΔΣΦ, A. B.
Harleyville, S. C.

Corresponding Secretary, Second Critic, Charter Member Snyder Literary Society; Member Carlisle Hall Executive Committee (3) (4); Varsity Football (2) (3) (4); Varsity Baseball (1) (2) (3) (4); Captain Baseball (3) (4); Class Basketball (2) (3); Manager and Captain Class Basketball (3); Coach Class Football (3); Athletic Advisory Board; Member Block W Club; College Council; I Phelta Thi; Member Latin (4); First Sergeant, Second Lieutenant, First Lieutenant R. O. T. C.

Ha: Dear readers, gaze upon the "pride of Harleyville" (yes it is in South Carolina.) When Harleyville sent Herbert to Wofford four years ago, little did it realize what an illustrious son she had produced; for he has turned out to be an all round good man.

Of all his numerous walks of college life, it is on the athletic field that his star scintillates with the greatest brilliancy. In football Gross has made his "W" for three years. In baseball he has shown even more, having been captain of the Terriers for two years and on the mythical all state team for the same number.

Of the intangible things that go to make up a man—"Herb" possesses an attractive and winning personality, a sunshiny and congenial disposition and the standards of a true gentleman. To be other than a friend to him is impossible.

But of all Herbert's college career has not run along as smoothly as appearances might suggest. First, he has had to make Physics one a three year course instead of one, as per schedule. Secondly, that old saying "it is better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all" applies to his endeavors in that field. But, do you think that such small matters as these could seriously hamper a man of Gross's caliber? We, who have known him best think not. In seeing you leave us, we wish for you all the happiness that the world has to offer.

"Hang sorrow; care will kill a cat, and therefore let's be merry."

HERMAN PRIOLEAU HAMILTON, ΠΚΦ, A. B.
Chester, S. C.

Member of Calhoun Literary Society; Glee Club (3) (4); Musical Manager, Sextett, Orchestra, Quartett (3) (4); Director College Band; Second Lieutenant R. O. T. C.

Some one-and -twenty-years ago—Chester claims the honor of having been the scene—a debonair youth first saw the light of day. With the passing of the days, the future genius waxed strong in wisdom and stature; and now we have—"Butterfly." Very early in life he showed a remarkable aptitude for music, and tradition says he even played on the linoleum when still a wee tot: Howbeit, when now he sits down at a piano, he does not produce such delucet harmony as would shame the immortal Pan. His divine playing has brought into bondage the heart of many a fair one.

"Butterfly" came to us from The Citadel in his Junior year. Yet, in the brief time he has been in our midst, he has made a host of friends on two campuses. He is of that kind who "can walk with kings, nor loose the common touch." We don't know any one who numbers his friends and acquaintances so many. Yet, in fidelity to fact, it must be added that a very large number is of the gentler sex.

Some say he aspires to be a disciple of Blackstone. Be that as it may, when we consider his integrity, courtesy, and other gentlemanly attributes, we can predict nothing but that success will crown his efforts. We are confident that some day Chester's chief claim to glory will be reposed in the fact that she nourished from infancy this sorreltopped son of hers.

"Full many a lady I have eyed with best regard, and many a time the harmony of their tongues hath into bondage brought my too diligent ear."

HERMAN NORTON HAYDEN, A. B.
Orangeburg, S. C.

Corresponding Secretary, Third Censor Carlisle Literary Society; Varsity Track and Cross Country Team; Captain (3); Member Block W Club; Cheer Leader (3); Athletic Advisory Board; Member Three Year Club; Second Lieutenant R. O. T. C.

Here is a character which needs a nobler pen to draw it.

Hayden does not shine out in the realm of scholarship, but he has what is much more—a bigness of character that is rare to find. He is a generous and selfless nature which makes him give all he has and do all he can for his friends. Therefore he has many.

Hayden is a boy whom any one is fortunate in having known and counted as a friend.

The prizes that he has won and the honors that have been awarded him during three short years, are something of an index to his worth. If he had another year at College there is no doubt that they would be many more.

Altho Hayden has had some trouble with "Bill's" English (as well as the kings english) yet he has earned his "Dip" in three years where most of us have taken four. That is no soft job you can bet, but has acquired much hard work and determination.

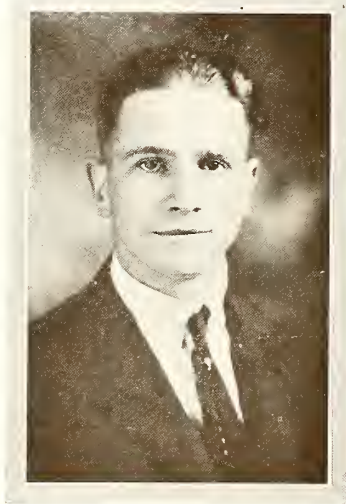

You can see by the above that Hayden's smallest worry is being able to baffle pursuit. We suspect that he develops this locomotive power catching rabbits and fleeing from wild beasts in the jungles near Orangeburg.

Then his ability at fooling the ladies is in no way the meanest of Hayden's accomplishments. For there have been "Women in the Case" all along.

True friendliness, determination, and sincerity; these we believe belong to our class mate.

"As tall in character as in stature."

REMBERT BRICE HERBERT, A. B.
Orangeburg, S. C.

Have you a worthy cause to advance? A good and honorable end to accomplish? And do you seek a man of character and ability to "put it across"? Then you need go no farther. No one could be more conscientious, more desirous of finding his real duty; or having found it, more ardent in its performance than Brice. Had Diogenes of old ever found himself in the company of our friend, he might have laid aside his lantern, and still have had the difficulty in finding that which he sought. As Wofford grieves at her loss, Emory may well rejoice at having this young preacher within her walls for a short time, before he returns to his native state to take his place in the South Carolina Conference.

But in spite of all this, Brice is a good boy, and has really done well in college. Between Converse, Greek, and Adolph Vermont, his time has been well taken up. In this case at least, the dramatic world has undoubtedly lost to the pulpit—as those who remember the hero of "Esther Wake", and "In Flanders Field", will testify.

Finally, as one who has known the gentleman rather intimately, may I take the liberty to extend congratulations to a certain fair one at Converse.

"Life is real, Life is earnest, and the grave is not its goal; dust thou art to dust returneth, was not spoken of the soul."

OLAN BURWELL HINSON, ΣAE, A. B.
Nichols, S. C.

Pan-Hellenic Council (4); President, First Critic, First Censor, Second Censor, Recording Secretary, Senior Monthly Orator, Junior Monthly Orator, Sophomore Monthly Orator, Anniversary Orator, Intersociety Debater (3); Sophomore Oratorical Contest, Member of Board of Trust, Charter Member, Snyder Literary Society; Circulating Manager Old Gold and Black; College Marshall (2); Class Football (2) (3); Presidents Club; College Council; Senior Hall Executive Committee; Member Press Bureau; First Lieutenant, First Sergeant, R. O. T. C.

Among the men who have remained with the class of 'Twenty-Three for four full years is O. B. Hinson. He came to us from Nichols, S. C., in the fall of Nineteen-Nineteen and it seems as if this lad was destined to be one of the leaders of his class. He has a high character, a firm determination and a fine disposition. His excellent qualities have endeared him to the hearts of the entire student body.

"O. B." has been very active in his literary society work, and has achieved for himself as an orator. In the classroom he has won for himself an enviable record. He has been noticed on the firing line in Dunc's and "Knotty's" classes ready to shoot either of the two, since he has an ample supply of ammunition, the name of which would not be exactly in order.

While he isn't a varsity athlete he has made a very creditable showing on our class teams. At Camp McClellan he was a leader among the boys and his work as coach of the Wofford Rifle team reflected credit on his Alma Mater. In the finer qualities that make for a high tone gentleman he is not wanting. In many respects Hinson represents what we may call a well-rounded man.

His ability, his integrity, and his high purpose assure him of success in his chosen field of law and politics.

"As a man thinketh, so is he."

JAMES FRANK McLEOD HOFFMEYER, A. B.
Florence, S. C.

President, Secretary-Treasurer, Corresponding Secretary Student Volunteer Band; First, Second, and Third Censors, Second Critic; Senior Monthly Orator; Carlisle Literary Society; Track Team (3) (4); Class Football (2) (3); Member Carlisle Hall Executive Committee; Corporal, Second Lieutenant R. O. T. C.

If it is a friend in need that you are looking for, you have found him. "Hoff", as he was known by the students and "Mr. Huff", as he was so often and so regularly, indeed three times a week, called by one of our honorable Professors, was always running over with good naturedness. Every student who ate in Carlisle Hall will vouch for this, because every time a book was swiped, cup broken, beans spilled, "Skeet" thrown, or what not, some one was heard to say in a joking manner "Hoffmeyer did it."

If you want to have a little fun, ask "Hoff" how was the race in Columbia? Why so many trips to Greenwood? How he got his tonsils sunburned when he went to Atlanta? And how many times was he called on in Psychology?

James took an active and leading part in religious work on the campus, and could always be depended on for anything he once promised to do. We are proud of him as a Volunteer, and we wish as great success on the foreign fields as he has made on Wofford Campus. We somehow feel that it will be greater, because there is no reason to doubt that he will have a world of inspiration from the life and companionship of a devoted wife. "Hoff" was every body's friend and every body wishes for their friend a long life of service, success and happiness.

"Oh, That I had been born rich, and not so good looking."

JOSEPH GASTON HOLLIS, JR., A. B.
Rodman, S. C.

Vice-President, First Critic, Senior Monthly Orator, Board of Trust, Charter Member Snyder Literary Society; Varsity Football (3) (4); Class Baseball (2) (3); Track Team (3); Gym Team (2).

"Jodie" came to Wofford from the city of Rodman in 1918. In Nineteen Twenty-One he tried his hand at teaching, but he liked the old life so well that he fell in line again with the class of 'Twenty-Three. He is known as the "fighteness" man on the campus—don't be afraid, he wont hurt you unless you give him a mighty good reason. Any one who may call "Jodie" a friend is indeed fortunate, for he is a friend in the true sense of the word.

He was a member of the varsity football squad for two years. As a football player he is excelled by none in fighting spirit.

Good natured, friendly, and quiet, with a fiery spirit when the right is being wronged. "Jodie" has put sunshine and happiness in this old world and made life a little brighter for a good many of us.

"Man's word is God in man."

FRANCIS MARION KINARD, A. B.
Ninety-Six, S. C.

Senior Order of Gnomes; Order of Golden Quill; Distinction in Scholarship (1) (3) (4); President Senior Class; Freshman Class Treasurer; Editor-in-Chief Old Gold and Black; Literary Editor of Journal; Assistant Literary Editor of Bohemian; Calhoun Society Reporter; President, Treasurer, Second Censor, Freshman Declaimer, Freshman Monthly Orator, Sophomore Monthly Orator, Sophomore Orator, Junior Debater, Intersociety Debater, Calhoun Literary Society; College Council (3) (4); Class Football (1) (2); Intercollegiate Debating Council; Wofford Press Bureau; Presidents Club; Delegate to S. C. P. A.; Delegate to S. V. C.; Teacher W. F. S.; Senior Year; Captain, First Sergeant, Platoon Sergeant, R. O. T. C.

"Jeff", as he is commonly known on the campus, had already acquired most of his physical attitude before entering college four years ago. Tradition has it that his earliest formed ambition was to "Live up to" the name of his native city, Ninety-Six (expressed in inches) and no one can accuse him of having fallen far short in the attainment, his youthful desire. We have found, however, through our years of association that he had other high aims also, those which mold and shape the character of a true gentleman. Such has he proven himself in every realm of college life, endearing himself to all.

His record as a scholar has always been of the highest type. Ability to "Hand Out a Line", derived from natural fluency in speech qualified him to "Shoot" Dunc perfectly and he has therefore specialized in History, Economics and Political Science. This year besides carrying his required number of hours for graduation he has ably served as professor in the Fitting School, and, as Editor in Chief of the college paper, has proved himself worthy of this responsible position. In Literary Society work he has also taken a keen interest. Indeed, his efforts have been projected as a vital force, into almost every phase of college activity.

One would suppose that these numerous duties would require his entire attention and monopolize his time, but not so. The "Chief Center" of his interest is in Columbia and it would not be surprising to hear of his becoming closely connected with Chicora College—Or rather a part of it. With a feeling of sadness we say farewell, yet with a deep great joy in the assurance that "Jeff" can but meet with similiar success in his life work.

"All is fair in love and war."

WILLIAM RALPH KING, A. B.
Manning, S. C.

President, First Critic, Second Censor, Senior Orator, Sophomore Orator, Charter Member Snyder Literary Society; Wofford College Council; Presidents Club; Class Football (1) (2); Gym Team (1) Adjutant, First Lieutenant, Sergeant-Major, Corporal, R. O. T. C.; Member Imperial Club.

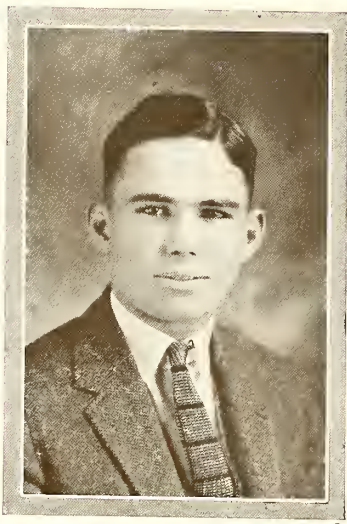

"Major" as he is known to the boys, came to us from Manning. He is the kind of man who develops an idea, and hangs to it. His latest theory is "How to vamp, before being vamped". This work, when completed will be of great assistance to all who fear the inroads of the flapper.

"Major" is a man who from the day of entrance into Wofford College realized the worth of an education. For there was never a student more studious, not a book worm, but a hard and diligent worker. Among the fellows he is honored not only for his ability to do things, but especially because he is in every circumstance found to be a true gentleman. "Major's" work in the Snyder Literary Society has been very consistent and we are glad to see him president for the last term.

"Major" developed into a military genius of distinction. Having surpassed all men in camp as "Major" in dress parade. He is always ready to back Wofford and is quite a favorite with the faculty. We know his ability and feel assured that he will always be a credit to the class of 'Twenty-Three.

"Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith let us dare to do our duty as we understand it."

HENRY LESTER KINGMAN, A. B.
Cope, S. C.

Distinction in Scholarship (1) (2); Senior Order of Gnomes; Secretary of Student Body (3); Vice-President Student Body (4); President Sophomore Class; President Honor System; President, Treasurer, Second Censor, Third Censor, Corresponding Secretary, Reporter, Freshman and Sophomore Monthly Orator, Junior Debater, Sophomore Speaker, Carlisle Literary Society; Senior Speaker; President, Secretary-Treasurer Carlisle Hall Executive Committee; Assistant Editor-in-Chief Old Gold and Black; Assistant Advertising Manager Bohemian; Y. M. C. In the year of our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Nineteen a cool September gale blew H. L. Kingman into our midst. Surely this was not an "ill wind" for every student has received from contact with Kingman's friendly spirit. If we would analyze Lester we would find that he consists mostly of generosity and optimism. To know him is to admire and like him.

With the "Profs" Lester seems to have some kind of secret hold. Never making a "trey", but centering mostly on "first and seconds."

Lester, ole boy, your successes and honors here only go to show that you are made of real stuff. Now with the good will of the class of 'Twenty-Three, go out and make history repeat itself. It is in you and we are going to watch you do it.

"True as the needle to the pole or as the dial to the sun."

HENRY BALLENGER KOON, A. B.
Columbia, S. C.

Sophomore Speaker, Junior Monthly Orator,
Charter Member Snyder Literary Society; Sergeant, Second Lieutenant R. O. T. C.

It is interesting to know that while it has taken Koon four years to show that he is a man capable of rational thinking, it has taken Dr. Rembert equally as long to learn that Koon is not Drake. However, each has been successful by means of the splendid opportunity offered him in the Psychology class room.

Koon came to Wofford from the Textile Industrial Institute, bringing with him that "Bull Dog" determination, which permeates the atmosphere at that school and enables a man to succeed in the face of difficulties. It can't be said of Koon that he decked himself with medals and honors while in college, but it can be said of him that he laboriously and persistently kept at his task. And that is the kind of stuff that really counts. Being a ministerial student, Koon offered his service to the Methodist Conference and was made pastor of the Glendale Church for a year. In the mean time he kept up his college work. Koon has expressly shown by his willingness to help wherever he is needed that he wants to spend his life in an unselfish and worthy work-seeking to make others happy. It is our sincere belief that he will be successful.

"No man was ever glorious who was not laborious."

"Cupid" name settled his fate. Here is a paradox—"Cupid" was shot with Cupid's arrow. By all this the reader will understand that single life was not bliss to "Cupid", so in his Junior year, he entered into the sacred bonds.

"Cupid's" sunny smile has established him in the hearts of the boys also, and we will not soon forget him.

"Cupid" has the valuable faculty of always seeing the bright side of a situation. He has taught us that life is made to laugh at, as well as to weep over.

But "Cupid's" lovely disposition is not his only asset. He can "Show Speed" on the cinder track as well as with the ladies and has been a valuable entity on Wofford's track squad as you will see by looking above.

Then too, "Cupid" has been faithful to his college duties, which is a tribute to any one.

We believe that one with "Cupid's" winning ways, determination and nerve should attain success in the bigger life even as he has in our college life.

BRUNSON BURNS MATTHEWS, A. B.
 Coward, S. C.

Member of Carlisle Literary Society; Private, Corporal, Lieutenant R. O. T. C.; Class Football (2).

"B. B." hails to us from the wilds of Florence County, but college worked wonders and "B. B." is no exception to the rule, and four years here on the campus with us have seen him overcome many of the disadvantages of being a citizen of those wilds. Since coming to Wofford in the fall of "Nineteen" Brunson has developed into quite a lady's man. What to attribute this to, we do not know, unless it is his musical talent and conversational ability, because he is no more handsome than the average among us. Be that as it may, "B. B." had all the other Wofford boys at the R. O. T. C. summer camp in the summer of Twenty-two, outclassed when it came to winning the hearts of the Alabama lassies.

Having chosen medicine as a profession, Brunson has spent most of his time here pursuing studies in the Science Hall. It is not an unfamiliar sight to see his smiling countenance beaming through the windows of the laboratory. Knowing his persistence in pursuit of knowledge of science and his ability to make and keep friends, we feel safe in predicting for him a successful career in his chosen profession.

O. T. C.; Wearer of Forensic Letter.

Our sadness of farewell is made much greater by having "Preacher" Mimms among us. His gaiety, versatility, and never failing cheerfulness have made many lasting friendships for him during his stay in college. He came to us from Carlisle

School in the fall of Nineteen-Twenty, and his capability and thoroughness in scholarship are such that they have enabled him to graduate with the class of 'Twenty-Three, thus becoming classified as a three year prodigy. Besides this noteworthy achievement he has taken part in many activities on and off the campus, as is shone by the number of honors conferred upon him. It is fitting that his attendance at Camp McClellan in the summer of 'Twenty-two be added to his honors, for while there he distinguished himself as "Chaplain" of the Wofford rifle team. We all join in wishing "Preacher" a future career as pleasant and prosperous as the ones he has enjoyed while at Wofford.

ROLAND NEWTON MURRAY, A. B. Aiken, S. C.

First Censor, Carlisle Literary Society; Corporal, Lieutenant, R. O. T. C.; Member of Uncle Dan's Three Year Physics I Club.

"Rube" joined us in our Sophomore year, having wisely decided that Clemson was no place for a man of such handsome qualities. He is a heart smasher of note, and the girl who can withstand his tempting smile and ever ready wit is yet to be found. Yet despite his lady killing proensities, "Rube" is a, "Hail, fellow, well met", being liked by all who know him.

"Stein's" wit is almost unexcelled, his comical phrases are constantly repeated by his friends on every hand.

As a bit of advice "Rube" suggests that all new-comers begin Uncle Dan's Physics in their Freshman year, as he insists that Physics I is a four year course.

Notwithstanding this, Roland is a man of high ideals and with his geniality we predict for him the greatest success in the future.

JOHN HUNTER MCCLINTOCK, A. B.
Ora, S. C.

Member of Carlisle Literary Society.

"Big Ora's" college career has been one of steady progress. He has quietly filled his place and has been faithful to his college duty.

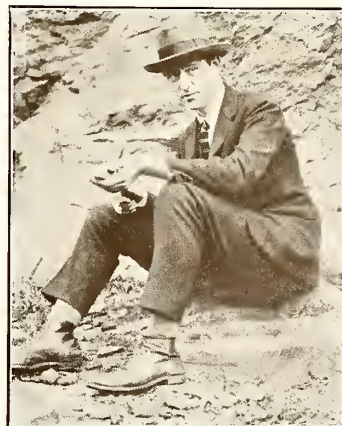

"Big Ora" has advanced from the stage where he was afraid of street cars in his freshman year to where now he parts his hair in the latest tea-hound fashion and is one of the truest disciple of Dame Fashion.

"Big Ora" specialized in Bible and Chemistry while in school, by which we infer that he means to convert the old home town before he blows it up.

He is bighearted and a generous natured fellow whose association for four years has been enjoyable to all of us. We will not soon forget him.

We expect to hear of rapid progress in Ora, S. C., soon after "Big Ora's" return home. "Big Ora", we wish luck to you.

SYDNEY ERNEST McMILLAN, ΔΣΦ, A. B.

Do you know him? Most likely you do, for he is none other than "Pete" McMillan, who after a brief stay at Clemson, wisely decided that that was no place for a man of his looks and personality. And so "Pete" entered the class of 'Twenty-Three about a month later than the rest of us. But we have been greatly helped by his being a member of our class, and we would hate to think what the young ladies would do without "Pete", for he is truly the ladies man of the class of 'Twenty-Three.

One is safe in saying that "Pete" will never visit Germany, for "Jimmie" and Pete have had many troublesome hours over irregular verbs. But persistence wins out, and "Pete" has an excellent average now.

It can truthfully be said about this young man that he lives up to the rule of "A friend in need is a friend indeed." And his friends are counted by the score. He is a reserved, well dressed gentleman, so what more can be said of a man of this calibre—with his winning personality and sunny smile he will surely win out in this old world.

"Let me live in a house by the side of the road, and be a friend to man."

EDWARD NASH, ΠΚΦ, A. B.

Pan-Hellenic Council; Corresponding Secretary, Second Censor, First Critic, Junior Monthly Orator, Vice-President, President, Preston Literary; Manager Freshman Baseball; Varsity Basketball (1); Freshman Basketball Coach; Member Block W Club; Presidents Club; Managers Club; College Council.

"Ed's" intellect corresponds in no way to his stature. The class of Twenty-Three counts him among its leading intellectual members, and is proud to have such a personage numbered among its members. "Ed" is a good student, especially in "Brother Trawick's" Religious Education classes. In athletics he showed us that "Squabiness" was not altogether handicap—he played a good game of basketball and tennis.

Every body counts "Ed" as a friend and he can safely count among his friends any one who has come in contact with him in any way. When one thinks of the class of 'Twenty-Three one must think of him because he holds a place for himself; and when he leaves, his vacancy will be hard to fill.

And so, we predict for "Ed" a glowing future. With his ability to make and keep friends, a keen mind, and a winning, straight forward manner he is equipped to go out into the world and conquer.

"My Stature small, but every wit a man withal."

FRANCIS HUGH MCKEE NEW, A. B.
Greenville, S. C.

Senior Hall Executive Committee; Member
Carlisle Literary Society Class Basketball (2).

This is just a word of good cheer to speed a parting comrade into "The world's broad field of battle." Francis carries with him the sincere good will and friendship of his class mates and fellow students. He has been with us for only three years, and during that time he has proved his character to be of sterling quality and his aims and ideals to be of the highest.

He has been conscientious and faithful in his studies and has been rewarded accordingly; his athletic endeavors has been confined to class functions, but he has demonstrated his gameness and determination as a member of the sophomore basketball squad.

If careful and consistent attention to college duties is an index to the future, we are led to infer that success will attend Francis' efforts in whatever profession he may choose.

EDWARD VANCE NICHOLS, A. B.
Durham, N. C.

First Critic, First Censor, Second Censor, Second Critic, Sophomore Monthly Orator, Preston Literary Society; Vice-President Senior House Executive Committee; Class Baseball; Class Football; Track; Latin (4) Club.

On the morning of September 18, 1919 "Nick" walked into our midst as a freshman from the city of Durham. We cannot understand why he left his own town college to come and be with us, but we are glad that he took this step.

"Nick" has a winning personality and is a friend to every one he knows. To know him is to like him, and he is known and likewise liked by every Wofford student. Those who like him are not confined to Wofford students, but he has many friends outside our college circle, and these include both sexes.

We know not why, but "Nick" has specialized in Latin. We are sure that he had had some dealings with domestic animals before coming to college, and his desire to keep in close connection with ponies may explain why he chose to take Uncle Gus' Latin courses. But "Nick" is a real Latin student as well as a real student in every other course of study. He has great ability, and will, with out a doubt prove to be a highly successful man. We are going to miss you, "Nick", and hate to see you leave us. We want you to visit your Alma Mater real often, for we all treasure you and your friendship among our precious jewels.

"He has a heart as sound as a bell and his tongue is his clapper."

Martin Matthew is his name, but he is known to all of us as "Big Mary." A giant in physique to too, he is a giant in intellect. "Big Mary" took an active part in all phases of college life, both in athletics, in his class room work, and in the Snyder Literary Society.

"Mary" is never without his accustomed smile, and always has a cheerful greeting for every one. He is the truest friend a fellow ever had; and the students showed their trust in him when they elected him president of the student body. "Mary" stands up for what is right, and has at all times the courage of his convictions.

Altho "Mace" has had to request him to leave the Dean's office on several occasions, he has the high esteem of the faculty, as well as the student body.

There may be more "Sheikish" boys than "Big Mary", but his cave man tactics have never yet failed with the ladies. So "Big Mary" we wish you success in whatever career you follow in after life.

"An able, strong, laborious man is he."

CHARLES SANFORD PRICKETT, A. B.
Burwell, Ga.

Distinction in Scholarship (3) (4); Senior Monthly Orator, Snyder Literary Society; Class Football (3); Class Basketball (3); Gym Team (3); Track Team (4); Latin 4 Club.

Charlie came to Wofford from Young Harris College, having graduated from that institution with honors. During the two years spent here he has won the esteem of many friends.

Charlie is one of the real students of his class. "Old Horace's" propensity toward the classics led him to sign up with "Uncle Gus" at the beginning of his studies here.

He is rather quiet and reserved in his manner, Charlie has put himself into all the activities of the campus and his class and has added much to each sphere.

We are glad this Georgia boy came to Wofford, for we believe his is a character on which we like to place the Wofford Seal.

GEORGE MACKAY SALLEY, JR., A. B.

Lieutenant, Corporal, R. O. T. C.

If it be true that all great men are modest, we believe we have one in Mackay--at least the making of one. As a student "Sal" is among the best, for he has completed his course in three years and has made distinction in his classes every year. "Laugh and the world laughs with you" seems to be a motto of his, for even though "Sal" is usually quiet, he always has a ready smile on his lips to make bright the lives of those around him.

Being a three year man, Mackay has not had time to take a great part in college activities. Though entering a year later than the rest of us, as fate would have it, he decided to join our class. Probably he did this with a view to the advantage to be gained from being numbered with the class of 'Twenty-Three. Suffice to say, however, we are glad that Mackay is one of our number, and in him we have a classmate whom we all admire. We know him to be a noble gentleman and a true friend. That the future is bright for this beloved classmate we do not doubt, because he is made of the proper stuff and has the ambition and grit that are bound to succeed.

"Worry never accomplishes anything worth-while."

If you have ever had the pleasure of tramping through the wilderness of "Pea Ridge" (one can't ride, save on the main highways) a very obscure corner in Union county, you have some idea of the environment in which "Parson" grew to handsome stalwart manhood. There he lived calmly and simply, until he was called to his country's service by the European Conflagration. Then he came to Wofford, and here he showed the same innate courage by joining the attack on the Greek alphabet. Later, he kidded "Dunc" into passing him in history (1).

Liked by all of us, always ready to help in any worthy activity, Sanders has proved himself to be an ideal student and a man of sterling character. Perhaps the fact that he gave a year as pastor, to a church near by, served to keep him balanced. Perhaps a young woman of whom he rarely spoke, helped to keep his goal in sight. At any rate he has been a Student Volunteer and is planning to go abroad as a missionary. The key note of his character is a fervent desire to be of the most service to the greatest number of people possible. We, therefore, in parting with "Parson" wish him a most happy and useful life.

"For life, with all its yields of joy and woe and hope and fear, is just our chance O' the prize of learning love."

LEONARD PHILLIPS STANLEY, A. B.
Columbia, S. C.

First Critic, Third Censor, Senior Monthly Orator, Preston Literary Society; Member of Carlisle Hall Executive Committee; Scrub Football Team (2) (3); Class Football (2) (3).

It matters not whether one calls him "Big Columbia", "Fatty", "Hooie", "L. P." or "Big Boy," he will always be just plain Stanley to his friends. He weighs about 249 pounds and 3 ounces and has a heart in proportion to his body. "Hooie" claims the "Capitol City" as his domicile and has had to work hard to overcome this handicap. "L. P." will long be remembered as a mainstay in the line of our championship class football team.

Besides being a persistent worker himself, "L. P." is always ready to help a fellow student, and through his amiable character and cheerfulness, he has gained many friends.

"Hooie" is noble, generous, kind and true, and combines these qualities with a broad mind and an impartial disposition, which all in all could count for nothing less than a great success in life.

"Speak little and well, if you wish to be considered as possessing merit."

Pi Kappa Delta; Varsity Baseball (2) (3); collegiate Debating Club.

"Lefty" is another one of Darlington county's many noble sons. He came to us from the Textile Institute where he made an amiable record. He had so much latent power in him that he made his degree easily in three years. Then you will notice that the honors he won cover a splendid field of activity. He was active in both forensic work as well as athletics.

"Lefty" was given an indelible place on the map of his Alma Mater when he pitched a winning game for his team against the old rival "Furman" in the spring of 'Twenty-Two.

He always has a cheerful smile and a good word for everyone; clean in his speech, thorough in his work, and sincere and honest in his conduct. Of the many good things that can be said of "Lefty" Taylor, a quotation from Browning might be aptly applied to him; "This is the honor—that no things I know, feel or conceive, but I can make my own somehow, by use of hand or head or heart."

*"If I am right, Thy grace impart,
Still in the right to stay;
If I am wrong, Oh, teach my heart

Behold, look into his intelligent face, he is none other than Turner Bartlett Thackston from Cedar Springs, South Carolina. He is every inch a man, and as he is six feet, three, figure it out for yourself,—“Some Man.”

“T. B.” is one of the most popular boys on the campus, in fact he is every ones friend, because he always wears a sunny smile and has a cheerful word for all.

Turner has made splendid scholarship records while in college and has held, as you may note above, many class and student body offices of honor. He has always been a prominent figure in the Preston Literary Society, beginning his “Fresh” year by carrying off the freshman declaimers medal and being rewarded his senior year by the presidency of the society.

Having never taken part in any collegiate athletics, except class football, “T. B.” has always been an ardent supporter and ever ready booster for all the teams of his Alma Mater. He managed the freshman football team his senior year, and he did this so well that he was awarded a block W for his efforts.

It did not surprise the young ladies of Converse when they heard that “T. B.” was elected a senior speaker. Being a born orator, and having the ability to tune his voice to a pleasing, harmonious pitch, “and hurl sweet nothings” into the ear of the opposite sex, no wonder most of the girls have “T. B.” “The Fair Ones” tell me that he has a marvelous persuading power, and when he combines this with a few of his cave man tactics we are not surprised that he is termed a “heart smasher.”

Altho “T. B.” has been a professor in the Hasloc School for boys for the past year, we hear that he intends going into the insurance business so we do not hesitate to predict that in the near future he will become president of the largest insurance company in the U. S.

“Leave all meaner things to low ambitions and the pride of kings.”

LOUIS EDMOND VENTERS, A. B.
Johnsonville, S. C.

Second Censor, Sophomore Monthly Orator,
Carlisle Literary Society; Class Football (1)
(2) (3); Corporal, Sergeant, Lieutenant, R.
O. T. C.; Member "Corner Store" Club.

Louis is a genuine good fellow, who had not been with us long before we had made two discoveries concerning him. First, that he could always make a hit with the ladies; second, that he could fool the faculty. His motto is "Never let studies interfere with your college duties." However, one has only to scratch through the surface to find the elements of a true man. A fine disposition, a sturdy character and all the other elements which go to make a true man are so perfectly blended in him that he is not only respected, but loved by his college mates.

We have no idea as to what he will do after he leaves us, and it is doubtful whether he has decided himself. But we have no doubt as to his success, for in addition to his course at Wofford he has had some practical training. This aided by a store of gentlemanly qualities and an ability to win and keep friends, he goes forth to conquer great worlds. He leaves here with the best wishes of all his associates and classmates and with their hopes that he may some day at least succeed in winning a "Converser."

"If I do vow a friendship, I'll perform it to the last article."

When Byron, or "B" as he is better known to us, entered Wofford with us in the fall of Nineteen Nineteen little did we realize the latent power that slept undisturbed in this quiet, modest youth from Fountain Inn, but as time passed, his sturdy character, his fine disposition, and his thoroughness in his work, made their impression and "B" became one of the outstanding figures in the class of 'Twenty-Three. This many coveted honors which he has held, show to some extent the esteem which we hold for him. He piloted our class very successfully in our Junior year and was given the honor of editing this volume. The very fact alone that he has undergone the labors and trials of this task is enough to show that "B" is no ordinary man.

Few have attained "B's" records in scholarship. For four years he has been on the distinction list. Book worm? No, he is an all round dandy good scout. "B" has always proved himself a perfect gentleman and a truer friend is not to be found. As he goes out into life with an intellectual mind, a genial personality, a seriousness of purpose, and a sturdy character, reluctantly we part with him but we feel sure that life holds success in store for him for we know the worth of the man.

*"He is complete in feature and mind,
With all good grace to grace a gentleman."*

Distinction in Scholarship (2) (3) (4); mittee; Second Lieutenant, R. O. T. C.

Four years ago a wonderful addition was made to our student body. The historic town of Cross Anchor must have given "Nat" to us grudgingly, for he is a man of whom any city should be proud to boast. Not every one who enters college walls is entitled to be called friend, student, and gentleman. But we find that "Nat" measured up to every inch of this standard. "Nat" is serious minded, energetic, and thorough in all he attempts to do. "Jimmy's" courses seems to have a very strong attraction for him; so much so that we think he should be a great French or German teacher in the near future. As a teacher he has already had some practice on the freshman class. Being a man of sterling qualities, morally, and intellectually, and having no mean athletic ability, we are assured of his success in whatever work he chooses in life.

it must follow, as the night the day, thou canst

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

On the morning of September the seventeenth nineteen-nineteen there appeared in Wofford Colleg Chapel as a part of the student body one hundred and thirty-four Freshmen, the largest class that had entered Wofford up to that time. This episode marked the beginning for the History of the Class of 'Twenty-Three. From the Blue Ridge mountains of North Carolina to the sandy coasts of the Palmetto State came this body of young men, desirous of knowledge. But with enough clear foresight of cognition to select Wofford College as their Alma Mater, where they could be trained into Christian leaders of men.

The Class of 'Twenty-Three soon caught the true Wofford spirit which they have so far upheld and will keep inviolate throughout life.

Under the direction of an able set of officers the perils and difficulties of the Freshman year were surmounted, these officers were: President, J. R. Adams; Vice-President, J. D. Farler; Secretary, R. B. Herbert; Treasurer, F. M. Kinard; Historian, W. L. Staley.

As Freshmen 'Twenty-Three was represented on the gridiron by Turnipseed and Osborne; in basketball by Hecklin, Nash and Dillingham; and in baseball by Gross and Turnipseed. The Freshmen of 'Nineteen won the class football championship. In oratorical and scholastic standing our class made an envious record of which we are justly proud.

Then we became Sophs (Knights of the hairbrushes) and incidentally we were the wisest class in college. For did we not stand high in our scholarships and furnish six Varsity football men as well? Hecklin was captain of basketball. On the baseball nine were three of our classmates. As Sophs our officers were: President, H. L. Kingman; Vice-President, K. S. Covington; Secretary, M. M. Player; Treasurer, B. Wham; Historian, L. C. Sanders.

Father Time turned the pages of this book, and behold! we were Juniors. The Junior class officers were: President, B. Wham; Vice-President, T. B. Thackston; Secretary, K. S. Covington; Treasurer, T. G. McFadden; Historian, J. P. Anderson.

R. B. Herbert won the Intersociety Oratorical contest and represented Wofford in the State Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest. Three of the Intercollegiate debaters were members of the Junior class. In athletics we held a record unexcelled by any previous class at Wofford, four of the five captains of the athletic teams were Juniors: H. E. Dillingham, basketball; H. A. Gross, baseball; C. H. Love, cross country; and H. S. Floyd, tennis. Our Varsity football men were: F. T. Davis, Gross, Player, and Kingman; in basketball were Dillingham and Nash, and in baseball were Gross and McMillan.

The Junior year slipped by and at last after three years of toil and preparation we returned to college and were matriculated as Seniors. Then, only, did we realize the true significance of the fact that within a few short months we would take our place in the world, and carry with us the high and lofty ideals of our Alma Mater.

To steer us through our Senior year, the following officers were elected: President F. M. Kinard; Vice-President, F. T. Davis; Secretary, G. C. Brown; Treasurer, J. P. Anderson; Historian, T. B. Thackston; Poet, W. L. Gray, Jr.; Prophet, L. Q. Galloway.

As Seniors we were called upon to furnish editors and managers for the student publications. The following officers were elected: "Bohemian", B. Wham, Editor-in-Chief; T. G. McFadden, Business Manager. "The Journal", W. R. Bourne, Editor-in-Chief; C. L. F. Copeland, Business Manager. "The Old Gold and Black", F. M. Kinard, Editor-in-Chief; L. Q. Galloway, Business Manager.

In athletics the Class of 'Twenty-Three had on the football team, F. T. Davis, Captain; Gross, Player, Hollis, and Kingman. In basketball, Dillingham; and in baseball, Gross, Captain; McMillan and Taylor. K. S. Covington was manager of football, and L. Q. Galloway and T. G. McFadden, managers of basketball and baseball, respectively.

Our representatives on the glee club were: Brown, Manager; Gray, Hamilton, Black, and George. Galloway, Coggins, Kingman and Anderson were the Varsity debaters from the Senior Class. In the Oratorical contest 'Twenty-Three was credibly represented by Galloway.

The class elected Anderson, Herbert and Thackston; and the faculty selected Galloway, Kingman and Bourne to be Senior speakers at Commencement.

Although beginning with one hundred and thirty-four members only fifty-nine at this writing have survived the vicissitudes of college life. They have dropped out along the way from various courses, and we have parted with them with varying feelings of regret.

The tragedy of our Senior year has been the loss of our beloved classmate, Thomas Gaston McFadden, whose death in the tragic accident robbed our class of one of its most popular members and brilliant minds. Although taken from us his memory ever remains with the class of Nineteen Twenty-Three.

Our History seems to be closing when in reality it is just beginning. Let us hope that the best things of our college career are but prophetic to bigger, better, and more serviceable achievements in our after lives. Such achievements as will reflect praise and honor upon our Alma Mater, whose ideals so well set before us by our steemed faculty, will ever be an inspiration to us to do our best.

—T. B. THACKSTON, Historian.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

R.L.S.

"Some men are born great, Some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them."

THIS quotation from the pen of a noted writer has brought satisfactory explanation to many, whose minds have been much disturbed and confused, when suddenly they have awakened to a realization of the fact that they were face to face with "greatness." Such people, according to the above, can be divided into three distinct classes, through a clear understanding of which we may perhaps find the secret to the mysteriously acquired positions now in their positions.

No doubt there are many men among my classmates who, in our "College World", unquestionably fall within the realm of those who are included in the one or more of the above mentioned divisions; there are many also—we trust all—whom the world, upon whose threshold we are now standing, will in years to come acclaim honored Knights of the Kingdom of True Greatness. Certainly Time will bring numerous changes, for these varied potential possibilities will gradually take the form of unmistakable realities. With only these feeble powers of prophecy which nature has granted the individual it is then very difficult for humane eyes to penetrate the mystic future.

However, there is a general law of humane nature, we have been often told since entering college, that can be applied with a certain degree of accuracy to students, namely: that a man's future may be judged by his present tendencies and his attitudes in responding to the innumerable stimuli, arising from our complex environment. Thus in attempting to draw back the curtain of Time to determine what role the Seniors of Nineteen Twenty-Three are to play in the great drama of Life, enacted in turn by each succeeding generation, I shall depend entirely upon the process of reasoning, using as a premise the happy experiences of our college days.

As I sat alone one evening pleasantly recalling those associations and events which college boys are privileged to enjoy, the true meaning of which therefore they alone can understand, one by one there developed in the process of my thoughts the visualized tomorrow of my associates. Those mental pictures revealed the following:

The new owner and editor of the Saturday Evening Post, Mr. W. R. Bourne, has greatly increased its value to the reading public by raising the quality standard of the short stories published both as to technique and general subject matter. It now boasts an unprecedented circulation.

G. C. Brown, Jr., the proprietor of a large Music House which enjoys an immense volume of business, principally through the sale of popular compositions written by the owner himself.

The administration of Mayor H. B. Bryant, of Spartanburg, has been the object of much favorable comment. Many attribute his success to the intensive mental training, which, as a member of the Calhoun Literary Society, he received while a student at Wofford College.

Dr. T. B. Mimms has recently been asked by the board of missions to tour the Oriental Mission Field, making a comprehensive study of the needs and the work being accomplished.

The Murray, a first class tourist Hotel, has just been completed in Aiken by R. M. Murray. It would be a credit to any city. The only possible complaint is concerning the disturbing noise which emanates from the owners' private pool room night and day.

Junior Class History

WHEN we entered Wofford College in the fall of 1920, our class had the distinction of being the largest ever enrolled at this institution. Although some have disappeared from our ranks, there are at present 73 Juniors, all of whom are justly proud of being members of the class of 1924.

In scholarship our class stands high; in all literary functions it has taken the leading part; in the Glee Club it has been well represented; and on the athletic field it has made a record of which we are proud.

Three members of our Class, L. M. Meadors, Paul Hardin, Jr., and N. W. Bennett, have twice during the year represented Wofford College in intercollegiate debates. Paul Hardin, Jr., also won the medal offered for the best speaker in the inter-society contest, and will represent Wofford at Greenwood.

We have the distinction of having two captains of athletic teams: O. Lindsay, captain of basketball, N. W. Bennett, captain of track. Ten of the nineteen football players who wear block "W's" are Juniors. Nine of the eleven men on the basketball team are also members of our class. The baseball team has not yet been selected, but at least nine of the eighteen most promising men are Juniors.

The officers of the Class are:

President, N. W. Bennett.

Vice-President, A. H. Stokes.

Secretary, G. V. Rogers.

Treasurer, T. H. Stokes.

Historian, M. B. Wilson.

For three years we have been growing under the shadow of Wofford College. Next year we will return to complete our Class History, with love for the great institution and with determination ever to be true to her ideals.

Sophomore Class History

IN September 13, 1921, approximately 160 extremely verdant Freshmen entered Wofford College. Though we were large in numbers the Sophomores managed to give each of us a warm reception.

In our first class meeting the following officers were elected:

Vice-President.....	T. R. Mozingo
Secretary.....	H. F. Murph
Treasurer.....	B. C. Inabinet
Historian.....	W. K. Child

After Christmas we elected S. M. Salley, President. As the offices of Vice-President and Treasurer were vacant because of the withdrawal of Mozingo and Inabinet, Wallace and McCoy were elected to fill these positions.

In athletics we were well represented, having a half-back on the football team, a forward on the basketball team and three Freshmen on the baseball team, two of whom were on the mythical all-state nine. We also had two men on the tennis team. We tied the Sophomores for the class championship in football.

Only one hundred of us returned for our Sophomore year. We chose the following officers:

President.....	W. K. Child
Vice-President.....	H. D. Lewis
Secretary.....	M. H. Lesesne
Treasurer.....	A. E. Carmichael
Historian.....	J. K. Williams

Again this year we were well represented in college activities. We had seven men on the football squad, two men on the basketball team, three on the baseball team, two on the tennis team, and three on the cross-country team. Six members of the State Championship Glee Club were Sophomores.

We are indeed proud of the record we have made during the past two years, both in class room and college activities. A great future is to be expected of the Class of '25.

Freshman Class History

On the morning of September 21, 1922, there assembled in the Chapel of Wofford College 227 new men who comprised the Freshman Class of 1922-23. In spite of the prevailing conditions of the times, this was the largest Freshman Class in the History of Wofford College. From all walks of life and all sections of the country came this group.

We all remember the fright that prevailed among us as the different professors assigned their lessons. Nevertheless, we soon became acquainted with surroundings, and after several days, we settled down to real work.

Thinking that the green new men needed officers to guide them through their Freshman year, the President of the Student Body called a Class meeting and the following officers were elected:

Vice-President.....	A. M. New
Secretary.....	J. M. Gibson
Treasurer.....	S. R. Easterling
Historian.....	W. L. Kinney, Jr.

After the holidays E. H. Gregg was elected Vice-President to fill the place left vacant by A. M. New, who did not return to school. B. E. Lewis was then elected President.

Since Wofford College is a member of the S. I. A. A. none of our members were allowed to participate in any inter-collegiate Varsity athletic contest. The Freshman Class had teams in all phases of athletics, and some of our members showed much promise of making great names for themselves in athletics before they receive their diplomas.

Not only have we a right to a place in the college sun because of our athletics properties, but also in other phases of college activities, namely, the Ministerial Club, for the greater part of its membership is from the Freshman Class.

We will never forget the different receptions that were given for us, which gave us an opportunity to meet the fair sex of the city and of Converse.

The History of the Freshman Class is hardly more than a prophecy because we have not been on the campus long enough for a definite conclusion to be made on us. Great things are expected of our class, but I am sure that the class of 1926 will do its part for itself and for Wofford College. The Spirit of the class can be summed up in the following verse:

*So nigh is grandeur to our dust,
So nigh is God to man,
When duty whispers softly, "Thou Must"
Youth replies "I can".*

SQUAD IN ACTION

DR. J. P. ("Rip") MAJOR, Coach

"Rip" left us in Nineteen-Twenty and it was two years before the college Athletic Officials realized that they could not get along without him. Notwithstanding the fact that Coach was handicapped in many ways this season, he developed a football team at Wofford that we are all proud of. We are indeed fortunate in having "Rip" with us for another year.

K. S. COVINGTON, Manager

"K. S." as he is usually called by the students, piloted the Terriers through one of the most successful years in their history from a financial standpoint. He arranged an excellent schedule for the team, and filled the shoes as manager to perfection in every way.

"ROOSTER" DAVIS, Captain, End

"Rooster" is rather light, weighing less than 150 pounds, yet he always puts up a good fight and is a regular magnet when forward passes are flying around in his neighborhood. Tread made his letter the first year that he attempted Varsity football and is one of the most reliable and dependable men on the Terriers squad. As a reward for his services he was elected captain of the team for this year. An honor which he well deserves.

"BIG MARY" PLAYER, Guard

"Big Mary" has played on the varsity team for two years, and he is one of the steadiest and most consistent guards who has donned a Terrier uniform in recent years. He weighs about 200 pounds and is a mainstay in our line. "Big Mary" is a hard fighter from the beginning to the end, and in the Furman game he was highly praised by "Billy" Laval and "The Furman Hornet". We shall never forget his untiring efforts to keep up "Pep" among his team mates even though in the face of the greatest odds.

J. G. HOLLIS, Tackle

In returning to Wofford this year "Jodie" had a twofold purpose in view. He wished to complete his college course and besides he wanted to demonstrate just how the position of tackle should be played. "Jodie" is every inch a man and always gives his opponent as much as he can handle. Early in the season Hollis established a reputation as a fighting demon.

W. L. RIKARD, Center

Altho this is his first year in college football, "Rick" proved to be one of the most reliable centers who has crawled into a Wofford uniform in years. Rikard is especially good on the defense, being possessed with an uncanny ability to get through and get his man. We all agree with the football experts who classified "Rick" as one of the best centers in the state.

H. A. GROSS, Quarterback

Gross has played quarter on the Terrier eleven for two years and has proved himself to be one of the best football generals that ever led a squad on the Wofford gridiron. He was cool-headed and always called his plays well. Herbert was unusually fast which aided him considerably in making end runs as well as gaining through the line. Gross is a senior and leaves us this year thus making a vacancy which will be hard to fill.

BILL HOOLE, Quarterback

"Bill's" punting proved to be the sensation of the 1922 season. In spite of the fact that he was handicapped by injuries in some of the important games, Bill stayed in by sheer grit and had the best year of his career. As quarterback he displayed leadership of the highest type, and as captain of next years team we feel sure that he will pilot Wofford through a successful season.

J. M. BAILEY, Fullback

Another good man from the "Fighters Hole"—Altho "Jimmie" is comparatively small in stature, he does not lack the "stuff" that makes a man. How well the Senior class team found this out, we are indeed fortunate in having "Jimmie" back for another year. We only regret that he did not start his football career sooner.

W. L. WALKER, Guard

Lawrence is a local product coming to us from Spartanburg High, where he took an active part in athletics. He was an ideal running mate for "Big Mary", and between them it was practically impossible for opposing teams to gain through the center of our line. Lawrence is always cool-headed, even in the hottest games, and his clever consistent playing won him the place of assistant captain.

J. C. MOORE, Tackle

This is Carlisle's second year on the Old Gold and Black varsity team, and from all appearances he will no doubt hold his position a couple of years longer. Moore is one of those men who is always in the game and always makes his tackles sure. We all expect to see Carlisle add a star to his block next year.

ED COLLINS, End

Eddie was one of the Methodist's best bets at the end of this year. He is rather light, which probably accounts for his speed, but he is a hard fighter and usually makes his tackles sure. Eddie seldom misses a ball coming over the aerial route. Collins made his letter this year, and we are expecting him to do great things on the Wofford eleven during his two remaining years.

F. ROBERTS, Halfback

In spite of the fact that Roberts is a diminutive football player he never fails to deliver the goods when called on to do so. He is fleet of foot and usually gains consistently. His deadly tackling on the defensive during the past season was a feature. Roberts expects to be with the Wofford team two more years as he is just a Sophomore now.

R. R. ROGERS, Halfback

Altho this was Roscoe's first year in college football he proved himself to be a halfback of no mean ability. "Arbuckle" is a good broken field runner and was instrumental in breaking up many forward passes which opposing teams attempted. Rogers will be with us again next year.

H. L. KINGMAN, Halfback

Lester was one of the hardest fighters on the Methodist squad this year and was one of our most reliable backfield men. He showed up well on the defense and was dreaded by his opponents on the offense. Kingman was out of the game for a while on account of injuries. However when it was possible for him to play he was always there and played remarkably well in the games in which he took part.

L. W. BROWN, End

"Brownie" was one of the hardest workers on our team this year. He shows plenty of speed when going down the field under punts and can always be counted on to get his man on the defense. Brown was awarded his block this year and we are indeed fortunate in having him back with us next year.

W. DAVIS, Tackle

Wendell was one of the best tackles on the Wofford eleven this year. He tips the scales at about 185 pounds and is a regular "Hercules" in the line. "Red" is a hard fought and can always be depended on to make an opening in the opponents line or get his man as the case may be. As an indication of "Red's" fighting spirit, upon one occasion when a teammate shouted, "Hold 'em boys", Wendell replied, "HOLD 'EM HELL, PUSH 'EM BACK". Davis won his block this year and we expect him to give somebody a good time for all-state honors next season.

SLIM PORTER, Guard

"Slim" has all the strength and size necessary to make an opposing guard shudder at first sight. He tips the scales at about 265 and ploughs through the enemies line like a monster tank. Porter is a regular terror in the line and works hard on either offense or defense. Being only a Junior he will be back with us next year "Stay in there and fight, Slim".

BASKETBALL SQUAD

ED COLLINS, Forward

Ed played his second year on the Terrier Quintet this season and improved as the season moved on. He is one of the fastest men on the squad and his ability and head work were big factors in every game that he participated in.

BILL CHILDS, Center

"Bill" took part in a few games last season, but it was not until this year that he demonstrated to the public just how the position of center should be played. When the ball is tossed up "Bill" seldom fails to knock it into the hands of a teammate, or else he knocks it well out of the reach of his opponents. We are fortunate in having Childs with us for two more years.

O. LINDSAY, Forward

Captain Lindsay is a basketball player of no mean ability, and is the equal of any Forward who has tried to match him. He is fast on the floor and always puts up a hard fight. This was "Zero's" third year on our team and we expect him to be back at his old position again next year.

ROSCOE ROGERS, Guard

This was Roscoe's third year on the Terrier Quintet and he is without a doubt one of the best guards that has appeared on the local floor in recent years. Altho not very large in stature, "Arbuckle" never fails to give an opponent all the trouble that he is looking for. We regret that Roscoe has only one more year with us.

B. E. ELKS, Forward

Ben proved himself to be "sho" nuff basketball material. Whenever he entered a game, a new spirit was instilled in the entire team and many points were gained as a result of this. He deserved all praise given him.

J. A. BATSON, Guard

Albert proved himself a terror to opposing forwards and showed them that they had to put forth all their efforts when they had the big sphere. His endurance and his speed helped the squad immensely.

A. M. COPELAND, Guard

Alex was another of the components of the Terrier Quintet who made his opponent wonder what it was all about. He was a reliable defensive man and was also useful on the offense. Alex has another year with us and we are expecting wonderful things from him.

VANCE WILLIAMS, Center

This lanky youth displayed real form this season, and made it known that he possessed the goods and he was more than willing to use all his powers for the team's advantage. His valiant spirit was noticeable in all games.

T. H. STOKES, Guard

Tom was right there with the goods again this year and his lithe body was frequently seen eluding his opponents and digging for the man who was expected to receive the ball. He was one of the cogs in Wofford's wonderful basketball machine.

BILL GENTRY, Forward

The quality of basketball played by Gentry should be branded nothing less than A-No-1. He plays a consistent game and can always be depended on to take care of his man. His fighting spirit has won for him the name of "Fighting Bill Gentry."

Wofford Wallops P. C. On Snyder Field 12 to 1

Terriers Get Revenge on Blue Stockings for Football Defeat by Running Away With One-Sided Game—Batson Gets Homer.

Wofford won her first collegiate baseball game of the season last Monday afternoon by the score of 12-1. The victims of such a trouncing and overwhelming amount of runs were the blue Stockings from Clinton. The Terriers, with three hits, one walk, and one hit by pitched ball, piled up a lead of three counts in the first inning, which was enough, with one to spare, to win the game. At no time did the lads from P. C. threaten the home boys, and their only tally was made as the result of a costly error.

After Wofford onslaughtered Lewis for five consecutive hits in the fifth frame, Coach Johnson saw fit to take out Lewis and put in Evans. The latter showed little of the real stuff, and was forced to retire in the eighth inning—Hanner relieving him.

In the second inning, Murph was hit by a pitched ball, which Lewis threw to Moore after catching Gross's fly. Although it stunned him for a few minutes, he continued the game.

"Pete" McMillan was the slugging demon of the afternoon, getting three safeties out of five trips to the bat.—Gross hit two out of three trials, and Batson a homer and single out of three. Wofford got twelve hits, P. C. five.

Wofford Songsters on Annual Tour of State

Glee Club Left Monday for Two Weeks Tour—Lander Date Cancelled and Club Plays Clinton.

Wofford's songsters have departed on their sixteenth annual barnstorming tour. They began their noisy work at the neighboring metropolis of Laurens, where the whole town, it is hoped, will turn out to hear "Little Willie" sing. If they get away from Laurens unhung, they will wend their noisy way to Clinton. P. C. has very graciously given them an opening for Tuesday night, when they were to play at Lander College. Lander, on account of the sad death of their president, had to cancel the date.

Thence they will drift on the "C. N. & L." Limited Flyer to Chicora College. From Columbia they will proceed to the thriving town of Orangeburg, where the whole town and fire department should be out to welcome them. Orangeburg has many Wofford alumni and devoted patrons, who look forward to the annual advent of the Glee Club and baseball squad. We have no doubt the club will be well attended and hospitably entertained.

Thence the club will visit with their melody and wit the other cities—Florence, Sumter, McColl, Bennettsville, etc.,—where they always are accorded bountiful attention and hospitality, returning by the goal of most of their heart's desire, namely: Columbia College.

J. D. Hammett Delivers Address to Student Body

Anderson Man, President of Several Cotton Mills, Delivers a Helpful Address in the College Chapel.

Mr. J. D. Hammett, of Anderson, S. C., delivered an address before the student bodies of the College and Fitting School last Tuesday morning. Mr. Hammett is a prominent mill man of the South, being President of several cotton mills in and near Anderson.

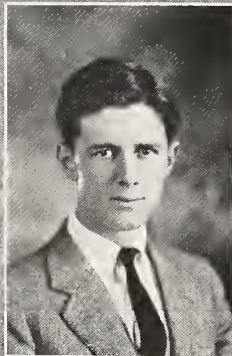

Accompanying Mr. Hammett was Mr. Victor Montgomery, who is at the head of several mills in Spartanburg.

Mr. Hammett briefly outlined the industrial progress of the South since the Civil War. Cotton manufacturing was resorted to in the South as a means of earning a livelihood in the gloomy days of the Reconstruction period. The industry, Mr. Hammett said, has been successful from the start. Very soon New England began to fear the South's rivalry in cotton manufacturing, and in spite of the prediction of some economists to the contrary, the South has become the leading cotton manufacturing center in the world.

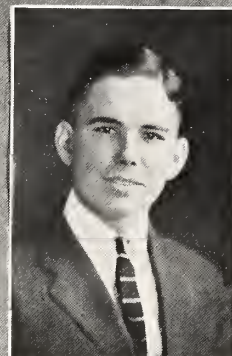

In a comparatively short time the various textile factories in the South have come to lead the world in the production of cotton goods. The knitting mills, towel and gingham factories of North Carolina, Mr. Hammett said, are the leading in the United States. In Greenville there is the largest fancy goods factory in the United States.

To a Beautiful Girl

*You are as a wonderful flower!
A marvel of beauty and grace!
Did you come right down from heaven,
Out of the sweetest place?*

*You are as pure as the thoughts of an angel;
Your heart is like the sun;
Did you come from the golden city
My sweetest and dearest one?*

*A jewel more radiant God never made;
Your soul is full of love;
Did your Creator make you for a queen,
Or to be an angel above?*

*Oh, dear! Oh, mortal so fair!
It is you that I love,
Because you are fair as an angel
And gentle as a dove.*

DEDICATION

TO

THE SOCIETY OF PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

Who have been so undaunted in their efforts to have us feel so comfortable and free; who have so persistently insisted that we visit a barber shop once a month, and that we use Turkish bath towels and octagon soap every Saturday night; who have made it their duty to inform us that we should gently cool all Hot Dogs before devouring them; who have demanded that we disturb not the Piggly when he was Wiggly; who have so faithfully cared for the delicate tea-hounds, lounge-lizards and other pests that we are thrown with, this volume of the Terrier Torment and Tatler is submissively dedicated avec admiration, sans formality.

WHY IT HAPPENED

After having scanned the preceding pages of this volume of the "Bohemian" in which you have gazed upon countless glattering pictures and a host of polite lies, you will probably have a desire to read a bit of the naked truth. The editor cannot be blamed for trying to make the men herein contained appear as they should be, but it would be unjust, timid reader, to allow you to be misled thus; hence a part of the whole truth will be presented for your astonishment. Being a hard luck pessimist your humble servant cannot help revealing a few of the secrets of these famous men. He is a grouchy pessimist, even going as far as to say that bananas should no longer be grown because so many people slip down on the peels. Bitter sarcasm and harsh criticism are his specialties and if all students do not get sore after reading the contents of this section this work will have been in vain.

Faculty Activites

ACTIVITIES and allurements of the faculty, this great college are not sapping wholesome college life of its vitality and we would not consider this edition complete without mentioning these various activities. The members of the faculty here are not decrepit and delicate as some would think them to be, they are a jolly, sport loving collection of the worthiest descendent of Adam. Their love for sports was manifested in a recent football game which was the feature event of the gridiron season. The faculty unexpectedly accepted a challenge from the varsity pig skin squad. This challenge was accepted in all due seriousness and a meeting of the Faculty was called in order that a captain might be elected. At this meeting much disagreeable turmoil and rangling was prevalent. "Heine" called the meeting to order and stated the purpose of the meetings. Immediately every member jumped to his feet and amidst the scrambling and uproar "Mace" voice was heard, "I am the Dean of this college, I am the biggest man on the faculty and the boys fear me more than they do anybody else; therefore, I think that I ought to be captain of this team," were Mace's rapidly spoken words. Then "Heine" arose and with determined jestures and flowery language, said: "Gentlemen, of the faculty, do you not regard the honor, of this institution, have you no respect for its president? I am surprised that you have not already elected me to pilot this aggregation." Then in a quivering voice Uncle Gus spoke thus: "Hold on a minute, you boys, I have been here two-four-eight-twenty years-since the falling of the stars. Surely you have respect for age, why not let me lead this squad to victory?" Then Uncle Dan broke in; "That is no argument I remember when Gus was a boy". Before Uncle Dan had finished all his remarks, "Fish" somewhat cooled the faculty with his spray like language, "Now, sh' gentlemen, I shink, you are going too fast. Dr. Schiles is head of the department and I shink you ought to s'choose s'him as head of sz' his team." Thus the meeting continued, we do not know how long, but it was in the wee small hours of the night that the members of the faculty were seen trudging wearily homeward. Excitement was intense the following morning when the students assembled in the chapel. Every member of the faculty was present with a serious look on his face. With majestic stride Heine came nearer to the students and with a determined look of a napoleon, on his face read the results of the meeting, upon the suggestion of Fish Salmon, "he declared" the faculty deemed it wise to elect Jimmie Childs captain of this team (tremendous applause) and it was also agreed that we accept (more applause) the challenge of the Varsity on the following conditions: First, that the game shall be played on Snyder field on the 31 day of November, 1922, beginning not earlier than 3 P. M."—(and with a trembling downward stroke of his hand) and it shall not end until the last member of the faculty has been taken off the field on a stretcher" (thundering applause from the faculty). Second—that the faculty will present the following line up:

Bill Pugh	R. E.	Fish Salmon	L. E.
Heine Snyder	R. T.	Knotty Rembert	Q. B.
Mace DuPre	R. G.	Dunc Wallace	R. H.
Gus Gamewell	C.	Dan DuPre	L. H.
Jim Chiles	L. G. (Captain)	Clink Clinkscales	F. B.
Pug Trawick	L. T.

Substitutes—Frog Waller, John Harris and Bo Passmore.

Third, that we deem it wise that we have Peg Shuler act as head linesman, other officials selected by opposing team."

This agreement was satisfactory to the Varsity.

On the 31st of November, immediately after the mid-day meal, the students went hurriedly to Snyder field where the stupendous grid-iron classic was to be staged. Amidst the cheers and applause of the immense body of spectators, the faculty came, grandly clad in perwinkle jerseys, Irish-green stockings and polka-dot trousers, confidently jogged upon the field at 2:59 P. M., followed by Rips Terriers. Due to the fact that Uncle Dan entirely forgot about the game Frog Waller was inserted in the line up to take Uncle Dan's place. Hoole kicked off for the Terriers, Dunc received the ball on the faculties forty yard line, Dunc, in a state of bewilderment immediately throws the ball to Knotty; Knotty, shouting "Ex Nihil Nihilo fit", throws the ball back to Dunc. Gross, the fleet footed quarter hits Dunc and throws him for a loss of 17 yards. In the collision Dunc bounded out of bounds and the ball bounded into the elongated Player's arms who after gaining 80 yards, was out run by Gamewell who cut Player down on the faculties 10 yard line. Synder called time out and Wallace with glistening tears running down his cheeks was carried to the showers bitterly pleading for a glass of sweet milk. Bo Passmore, after gracefully jogging about before the stands, hastens to take Wallaces place. The Terriers attempt a forward pass, but the ball halted by Mace's voice and falls incomplete. The Terriers next complete a criss-cross, but it was successfully broken up by Fish Salmon. Bill Pugh called time out and advisely said, "Hince I suggest that you do not try that play again." The Terriers then resorted to line plunges, but are met with an impenetrable stone wall composed of Chiles, DuPre and Gamwell. The ball goes over. Rembert calls Clinkscales back to punt. Clinkscales declines, offering an excuse. Snyder calls time out and says to Clinkscales "Excusa Accusa" Clinkscales becomes furious and kicks the ball 98 yards for a field goal. End of first quarter—Faculty 3—Terriers 0.

Uncle Dan, who has been reminded that this was the day for the great game, hurried to the field and took Waller's place. "Pug" Trawick kicks off for the faculty. Robertson catches the ball and is tackled in his tracks by the speedy Pugh. In an attempted line buck somebody steps on Mace's foot and six husky Terriers were knocked out before the whistle could be blown. Chiles falls on the ball and burries it four inches in the ground, on the next play, quarter-back Rembert calls Dupre D. back for a long end run. Gamwell shoots beautiful spiral back to Dupre, who forgets the direction of his goal and runs toward the Terriers goal, but before the goal is reached he is over taken by the swift running Gamwell who throws DuPre on the 10 yard line. In the next play Pugh was carried off the field and was succeeded by John Harris, as the next play was beginning the whistle blew announcing the end of the first half.

Score: Faculty 3,—Terriers, 0.

During the intermission between the halves, captain Chiles led his team mates to a remote corner of Snyder field for a brief and determined conference. And from there came swollen breezes bearing the echoes of Heinies oration and Fish Salmon's suggestions.

The referee blows his whistle for the second half, and the faculty team rushes upon the field.

During this quarter there was no spectacular features. The ball remaining throughout the quarter in mid-field. The following men were carried to the showers on stretchers. Captain Chiles, and Clinkscales.

End of the third quarter, score Faculty 3,—Terriers 0.

During the third quarter the Terriers rushed the ball to the faculty's 7 yard line. But then were unable to cross the goal line on account of the encouragement of Snyder's continuous remark—"They shall not pass"—The Terriers attempt a number of criss-crosses, but are continually broken up by Fish Salmon. Though the faculty's team was weakened by the absence of several players they fought valiantly with that do or die spirit and forced the Terriers to give up the offense—time out—Captain Chiles returns to the game and before the next play was begun he remarked to Salmon. "Ha, Ha, Ha, Mis-ter Salmon, they thought they had me out of this game." Salmon replied "Docta Shiles you had better stay out of this game." On the next play the faculty tried a line plunge over right guard. At the completion of this play, rising from the bottom of a tumbled mass of human beings, was heard DuPre. A. Mase remark "Uh, Huh, Uh, Huh, trying to come over me, eh? The play was repeated and quarter back Rembert goes over right guard for a gain of 40 yards. The faculty fought desperately for another score and carried the ball to the Terriers 3 yard line and there the referee's whistle announced that the game was over. Immediately all the faculty's players collapsed and stretchers were brought to carry them off the field. But Uncle Gus, Bo Passmore, and Fish Salmon refused to be carried off the field. As the brilliant autumn sun was slowly gliding downward in all its splendor over the western horizon, these three stalwart heroes, covered with the golden dust of the battle, gathered themselves in the middle of the field and gave 17 glorious rahs for the victory.

Score: Faculty 3—Terriers 0.

Two Hundred and Fifty-Four

WE HAVE furnished a complete service to the management of "The Bohemian" 1923. All extra art work, the engraving, printing and binding of this book were done in our plant.

This has been made possible by specializing on this class of work. This year we are doing work on something like 35 Annuals.

We are prepared to furnish a complete line of stock inserts, borders, panels, instruction books and many other necessities to an annual staff. We will have a more complete line of samples also.

We sincerely hope that the management of "The Bohemian" is satisfied with the product of our efforts and that the incoming staff will confer with us before committing themselves on next year's contracts. Don't fail to let us know when you can see our representative.

GONE TO GRASS

By HARVEY SMITH McCOWN

Author of "THE TRAIL A BOY TRAVELS"

My friends, for twenty years I have been looking for a man that has never saved a dollar in his life and is glad of it. I have not found him.

But I know a man who lived to be seventy years of age and could not fill out a check. He had never signed one, because he had never had a bank account.

He is dead. He died a pauper. He left his wife in suffering poverty. His shroud is the wedding suit of the friend who dressed him for his funeral. He lies today in a coffin bought by kindly neighbors. When he died, he left this epitaph to adorn the board which marks his tomb:

"Here lies the remains of a SPENDTHRIFT. I never saved a dollar in my life. I have never prepared against the day of misfortune. I never took out a life insurance policy. I never owned a home of my own. I never had a bank account. There are debts that I have never paid, and which I never can pay. My life has been a failure, and I want the world to let the grass grow over my grave and forget that I ever lived."
(Signed) A SPENDTHRIFT.

We appreciate this because it is a daily truth. We are interested in you men, and want to help you. Deposit with us. There is no better friend to Wofford College and its students than this good old bank. Our association dates from 1871.
